Carolina 1980

Media Information

CREDENTIALS: Working press credentials for Carolina home games can be obtained by contacting Rick Brewer in the Sports Information Office. Brewer's mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27514.

Requests are screened with care to insure a working pressbox. Children, spouses and pets are not allowed in compliance with the working code of the Football Writers Association of America.

FILING COPY: There are no Western Union facilities in the Kenan Stadium pressbox. The Athletic Department does furnish a number of telephones for writers to use in moving their copy. The Carolina Sports Information Office has one telecopier which will be available for sending copy. An operator's fee of $10 per game will be charged for its use. This fee will cover the cost of a student assistant staying late to send copy.

It is strongly suggested, however, that if at all possible, newsmen covering games in Kenan Stadium bring their own telecopiers. This will allow all copy to be moved more quickly and will alleviate any deadline problems.

PRESSBOX SERVICES: Programs, flip cards and statistics will be provided before each game. A play-by-play will be distributed at the conclusion of each quarter. Halftime statistics will also be available. Complete team and individual statistics, a scoring summary and coaches' quotes will be provided after the game.

Lunch will be served on the third level of the pressbox before each game and at halftime. Soft drinks and coffee are available on the second level (writers' area) throughout the game.

SIDELINE POLICY: Photographers will not be allowed on the sideline without an armband. Armbands can be picked up in the pressbox prior to the game. Each photographer must pick up his or her own armband from Ann Whitaker, assistant sports information director.

INTERVIEWS: Each Tuesday during the football season Dick Crum will be available to the media at a press luncheon. Television and radio tapes can be done at 11:30 a.m. with the luncheon starting at noon in Kenan Fieldhouse.

Player interviews can be arranged by contacting the Sports Information Office. Generally interviews will be set up in Kenan Fieldhouse. However, Carolina's actual locker room is closed to the press during the season except on Staurdays following games. Player interviews are not allowed on Fridays preceding games.

RADIO NETWORK AND TV SHOW: Over 60 stations in three states will once again carry the Tar Heel Football Network. The network is operated by Village Companies of Chapel Hill with Jim Heavner as the producer. Woody Durham, sports director at WPTF-TV, will handle the play-by-play with Heavner and Bob Holliday of WCHL Radio adding color commentary.

The Carolina Football Show will be televised across the state of North Carolina each Sunday. Durham serves as emcee for this program which features Crum and highlights of the previous game.

1980 Prospectus

With 15 starters back from last year's Gator Bowl championship team, North Carolina could be an even stronger football club in 1980.

Coach Dick Crum's Tar Heels posted an 8-3-1 record last season, the best mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference. That victory total includes a 17-15 win over Michigan in the Gator Bowl.

"If we continue to develop, we have the potential to be a pretty good team this fall," says Crum. "But, we've got to continue to improve. We certainly must play with more consistency that we did last year."

Carolina won its first four games last season, then dropped three of five before bouncing back to capture its last two and a spot opposite Michigan in Jacksonville. Injuries to tailbacks Amos Lawrence and Kelvin Bryant coincided with the mid-season slump, but weren't the complete reason for the losses.

"We simply did not play with the same intensity in those games that we displayed earlier in the year," says Crum. "We must play with the same level of intensity each week."

The Tar Heels must also find a way to keep Lawrence healthy for a complete season. Last year he was bothered by a pulled groin muscle for five weeks. He gained just 164 yards in that stretch and Carolina was 1-3-1 in those games. When he was healthy, the Tar Heels were 7-0.

In fact, when he's healthy Lawrence may be the best runner in college football. He heads into his senior season with more career rushing yardage (3,273) than any other active player in the nation. Despite being slowed by injuries for the past two years, Amos has had three straight 1,000-yard seasons. Tony Dorsett is the only major college player to have four.

How important is Lawrence to the Tar Heel attack? Well, counting the Gator Bowl he has now had 17 100-yard rushing performances. Carolina is an amazing 15-1-1 in those games.

A 5-10, 180-pounder from Norfolk, Va., Lawrence is a scoring threat from anywhere on the field. He doesn't have the size of some I-formation tailbacks, but he makes up for that with his quickness and elusiveness. If he can stay healthy for an entire season, he could be a leading contender for the Heisman Trophy.

Lawrence will run behind an offensive line which features another top all-star candidate—guard Ron Wooten, a 6-4, 260-pound senior from Kinston, N.C. Wooten was a second-team All-America last year and is a prime contender for both the Lombardi Award and the Outland Trophy this season. Crum says he is the finest offensive lineman he's coached and one of the best he has ever seen.

Wooten is a coach's dream. Not only does he have great physical tools, but he is one of the team's hardest workers. He is also an outstanding student. He has already made PLAYBOY's pre-season All-America team. Carolina has traditionally produced standout offensive guards and Wooten just may be the best of them all.

Wooten is one of four starters back in the offensive line. The others are center Rick Donnalley, a 6-2, 250-pound senior; tackle Mark Sugg, a 6-4, 255-pound senior; and tackle Mike Marr, a 6-4, 250-pound junior. Missing from last year's line is All-ACC tackle Steve Junkmann. Sugg has been shifted from right guard to Junkmann's old left tackle spot. Ron Spruill, a 6-2, 245-pound sophomore, won the vacated right guard slot in spring practice.

Like Wooten, Donnalley figures to be one of the ACC's premier linemen this fall. After playing in the shadow of Outland Trophy winner Jim Ritcher for two years, Donnalley now rates as the league's finest center.

The biggest problem in the line is depth. None of the backups have much experience. These players will have to develop quickly this fall, however, to supply the reserve strength the Tar Heels need. A key man should be guard David Drechsler who is capable of playing any of the interior blocking spots.

The tight end position will again be manned by junior Shelton Robinson, an outstanding blocker, and senior Mike Chatham, who set a school record and tied an ACC mark with eight touchdown receptions last year. Chatham, an All-ACC selection, led the Tar Heels in receiving with 29 catches.

Inexperience is the major concern at wide receiver. Wayne Tucker, a 6-3, 197-pound senior, returns as the starting flanker. He has tremendous athletic ability and gives Carolina a game-breaking threat. He caught 16 passes a year ago, four for touchdowns.

The other three top wide receivers from last year—Jeff Grey, Phil Farris and P.J. Gay—have all graduated. The starting split end will thus come from a group that includes junior Jon Richardson and sophomores Victor Harrison and David Hemphill. Regardless of who starts, all of these players should see plenty of action.

Although Lawrence returns at tailback, the rest of last year's backfield is missing. Gone are fullback Doug Paschal, a great all-around performer, and quarterback Matt Kupec, a four-year starter who owns virtually every school passing record.

Paschal finished his career as the eighth-leading rusher in Tar Heel history. Kupec had an outstanding senior season, throwing an ACC-record 18 touchdown passes. He and Lawrence were named co-MVPs in the Gator Bowl triumph over Michigan.

Billy Johnson, a 6-1, 249-pound senior, has the ability to do a fine job as Paschal's replacement. He's a powerful inside runner, a capable receiver and a solid blocker. He has played a great deal during his Tar Heel career and performed well last year.

Settling on a new quarterback may not be so easy.

"Replacing your quarterback is always a problem," says Crum. "That's especially true in our case, losing a five-year player like Matt. However, I think we've got people capable of taking over and doing a pretty good job."

Chuck Sharpe, a junior from Burlington, N.C., goes into the fall as the starter. Although he saw only limited action last year, Chuck started five games as a freshman. He is a fine runner and an improving passer. He did a good job in the spring.

Sophomore Rod Elkins of Greensboro, N.C. is still in the race for the starting job, however. Elkins was the junior varsity quarterback last season and thus lacks Sharpe's game experience. Elkins is an outstanding passer and a fine runner as well. He suffered a slight knee injury in the early summer, but should be ready to challenge Sharpe this fall.

"I think both guys are capable of doing the job," says Crum. "I think the other players feel that way, too. In the past, they believed in Matt and wanted him in there running things. But, I believe they would be comfortable with either Chuck or Rod this season."

Another key performer in the backfield could be Bryant. He suffered a separated shoulder in the third game last season and missed six games. A 6-2, 185-pound sophomore from Tarboro, N.C., he is an excellent backup for Lawrence. Alan Burrus also figures prominently in the backfield picture. He's listed behind Johnson at fullback, but could play tailback as well.

The Tar Heels led the ACC in scoring last year and if one of the young quarterbacks comes through, the offense should again be potent. It is the defense, however, which will probably dictate Carolina's season.

"Our defense must be solid," says Crum. "You win championships with good defensive teams. I think this unit has a lot of possibilities."

Eight starters are back from last year's defense. Gone are nose guard Bob Duncan and a pair of All-ACC performers, linebacker Buddy Curry and strong safety Ricky Barden. Their great leadership will be missed almost as much as their playing skills.

Heading the list of returning players are outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor, tackle Donnell Thompson and free safety Steve Streater. All have the ability to be among the best in the country at their positions.

Taylor, a 6-3, 237-pound senior from Williamsburg, Va., made tremendous progress down the stretch last season and was brilliant against Michigan in the Gator Bowl. He has great athletic ability and could be the big-play man of the defense. Carolina coaches say there is not a better outside linebacker (defensive end) in the country. There may be one or two in the same class as Taylor, but none better.

Thompson, a 6-5, 270-pound senior from Lumberton, N.C., also had a good junior season. He always seems to be at his best in the biggest games. For example, his best two performances last year may have been against Pittsburgh and Michigan. His potential is unlimited.

Taylor and Thompson will anchor a defensive front that could be outstanding. Calvin Daniels, a junior who can be just about as good as he wants to be, returns at the flank opposite Taylor. He's another big-play performer.

John Brugos, a 6-2, 238-pound senior, was a regular at right tackle last fall, but will go into the 1980 season behind Harry Stanback at that spot. Stanback, a 6-5, 255-pound senior from Rockingham, N.C., had a superb spring to win the starting job. Paul Davis, who split time with Duncan last year, will be the nose guard.

Depth up front will be provided by Brugos and Donald Lucas (6-4, 251) at tackle, Dan Richardson (5-10, 235) at nose guard and Jeff Pierce (6-0, 201) at outside linebacker.

Darrell Nicholson is set at one inside linebacker. The 6-2, 232-pound junior from Winston-Salem, N.C. was the ACC Rookie of the Year as a freshman and had an even better season last fall. Lee Shaffer, a 6-1, 210-pound junior from Durham, N.C., won Curry's old spot in the spring. He was moved there from outside linebacker and thus lacks experience. However, he has a nose for the football and played very well in the spring. Depth will come from a group that includes Kris Keeney, Rocky White and Chris Ward.

Key man in the secondary will be Streater, a 5-11, 168-pound senior from Sylva, N.C. He tied for the team lead with five interceptions last year and has fine instincts at free safety.

Sophomore Larry Winters and senior David Singleton return as the starting cornerbacks although senior Tyress Bratton will push for a starting berth this fall. He missed part of the spring with a broken arm. Junior Bill Jackson is the probable starter at Barden's old strong safety position.

The kicking game should again be solid. Streater averaged 41.2 yards per punt last year and the Tar Heel kick coverage was excellent. Jeff Hayes showed steady improvement as the place-kicker.

"Depth is something coaches are always concerned about and I'm no exception," says Crum. "But, I really believe we're in better shape now than we were last year at this time. Our defensive front will have more depth than its had in the past. We also have depth in the offensive backfield and we're beginning to develop some in the offensive line.

"Still, our depth needs to be better at a couple of positions and that's one of my major concerns. If we can get some help from freshmen at those spots and play with intensity each week, we're capable of having a good season."

Goal Line Analysis

Offense

Receivers

Inexperience at wide receiver is the major problem here. Gone are three of the top four wide-outs from last year—Jeff Grey, Phil Farris and P.J. Gay. The lone returnee is starting flanker Wayne Tucker. He is a good one, however. Tucker made great strides throughout the 1979 season and looms as an all-star candidate in his senior year. He has tremendous athletic ability and gives Carolina a game-breaking threat. He made 16 catches last fall, four for touchdowns. The starting split end will come from a group that includes junior Jon Richardson and sophomores Victor Harrison and David Hemphill. Richardson goes into the fall as the starter, but should be pushed for the job. He saw some action late in the year last fall. Harrison and Hemphill have good talent, but even less experience than Richardson. Carolina shuttles its receivers quite a bit, so all will see action. There is also a possibility that an incoming freshman might help here. Tight end will bew well-manned by junior Shelton Robinson and senior Mike Chatham. Robinson is a picture blocker. He has also worked hard to develop into a solid receiver. Chatham was a major surprise last fall, leading the team with 29 catches and setting a school record with eight touchdown receptions. He won All-ACC honors. Sophomore Doug Sickels is the number three man.

Interior Line

With four starters back this unit could be a very good one. Guard Ron Wooten and center Rick Donnalley figure to be among the best players in the country at their respective positions. In fact, some feel Wooten will be the best guard in America. He rates as a top contender for the Lombardi Award and the Outland Trophy. Donnalley has been unfortunate in that he has played in the same league with last year's Outland Trophy winner, N.C. State center Jim Ritcher, for two seasons. Thus, his skills have been overshadowed. Now, however, he is the ACC's top center and one of the finest in the nation. The other two starters back are tackle Mike Marr and Mark Sugg, a regular at guard last year who was shifted to left tackle in the spring. He will replace graduated All-ACC tackle Steve Junkmann at that spot. Marr is a junior and the other three returning starters are seniors. Sophomore Ron Spruill grabbed Sugg's old guard position in the spring. He lacks experience, but has the talent to be an outstanding lineman, Depth in the line is a big concern, however. Only David Drechsler of the number two unit has any varsity experience. Other top backups will be Mel Trimble, Bob Barnum, Steve McGrew, Steve Lancaster, Bill Lippincott and Bill Crawford.

The Backfield

Key man in the backfield is tailback Amos Lawrence, the only returning starter. He rates as one of the great players in the country when he's healthy. However, he has been at full speed for only about half of each of the past two seasons. If he can stay free of injuries this year, he is capable of winning the Heisman Trophy. He is that great a runner. The other starters from last fall, fullback Doug Paschal and quarterback Matt Kupec, have graduated. Paschal was one of the most complete backs in the nation—a fine runner, good blocker and excellent receiver. Kupec had the finest passing season of any quarterback in Tar Heel history last year. He tossed an ACC-record 18 touchdown passes and now owns virtually every school passing record. Billy Johnson, a senior, seems set as Paschal's replacement at fullback. He has played a great deal during his Carolina career and did a good job last year. He's a good inside runner and a bruising blocker. Chuck Sharpe goes into the fall as the number one quarterback. He only saw limited action last year, but played a great deal as a freshman. He should give the Tar Heels sound play there. Soph Rod Elkins is another possibility at quarterback. He came on late in the spring and could challenge for the starting job this fall. Alan Burrus, moved from the secondary last spring, will play behind Johnson with soph Kelvin Bryant backing up Lawrence. Others who could get playing time include Walter Sturdivant, Ron DeMarco, Danny Bunn and Travis Freeman. Additional depth in the backfield could come from some of Carolina's incoming freshmen.

Defense

The Line

This could be one of Carolina's greatest strengths. There is excellent talent along the front five and the depth situation is improved over a year ago. The key men are outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor and tackle Donnell Thompson. Both have tremendous natural ability. If they play up to their potential, they will have great senior years. Taylor could be the big-play man of the defense. He has speed, size, strength and quickness. Tar Heel coaches rate him the best in the nation at this position. Thompson can be a powerful force inside. In the big games he has been awesome. If he could get himself that ready to play every week, he could win national all-star honors. Two other players with all-star potential are tackle Harry Stanback and outside linebacker Calvin Daniels. Stanback, a reserve last fall, won the starting job last spring from returning regular John Brugos. He appears headed for a great senior season. Daniels has great athletic ability. He teams with Taylor to give Carolina outstanding play at the flanks. Paul Davis, who split time with Bob Duncan at nose guard last season, will start there. He is a good all-around athlete. If Brugos doesn't work his way back into a starting job, he will head up a solid group of backups. Other key reserves are tackle Donald Lucas, nose guard Dan Richardson and outside linebacker Jeff Pierce.

Linebackers

Gone is four-year starter Buddy Curry, one of the best linebackers in Carolina history. Not only was he a great player, but he was a superb leader as well. However, Darrell Nicholson does return at the other inside linebacker post. He was the ACC Rookie of the Year in 1978 and had a good sophomore season. Nicholson was a unanimous selection to the ACC coaches' pre-season all-conference team. Junior Lee Shaffer won Curry's old job in the spring. An outside linebacker in the past, he doesn't have experience at this spot. But, he's a hard worker and has a nose for the football. He should do a good job. Reserve help will come from Kris Keeney, Chris Ward and Rocky White. Keeney missed all of last season with mononucleosis. However, he's healthy now and should get a lot of playing time. Ward saw only limited action as a freshman last year. Most of his playing time came on the special teams. That's also true of White, who was moved to this spot early last fall. Both are being counted on to play more this season.

The Secondary

Missing from the defensive backfield is Ricky Barden, one of the greatest defensive backs in school history. He did a super job at strong safety last year, earning second-team All-America honors. The other three starters from last season are back. Top returnee is free safety Steve Streater. Streater tied for the team lead with five interceptions last year. He has a lot of savvy in the secondary and always seems to be around the football. He rates as a leading all-star candidate in his senior season. The returning cornerbacks are senior David Singleton and sophomore Larry Winters. Another important player at cornerback is senior Tyress Bratton. He was a starter most of last year until suffering an ankle injury late in the season. He then missed part of spring practice with a broken arm. Now that he's healthy again he's expected to push for a starting job. Bill Jackson, a junior, looms as the likely starter at strong safety. He is a solid player, but lacks the experience of Barden. Two sophomores, Greg Poole and Sammy Johnson, are also capable of breaking into the lineup somewhere. Again experience is a problem, but both have fine talent. Charlie Hampton, Guy Randolph, Todd Kelly and Alex Mebane supply backup help. Incoming freshmen could also help here.

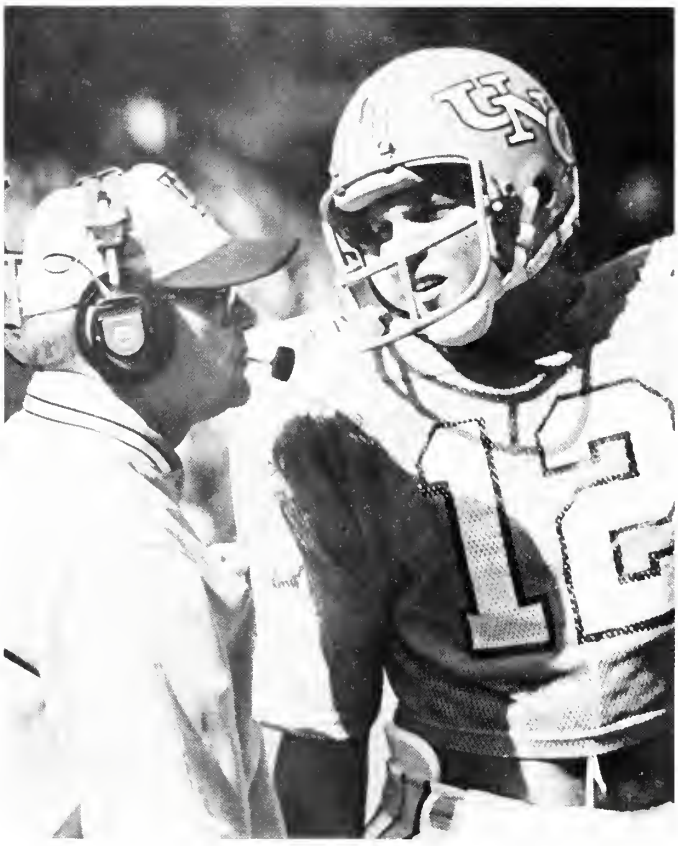
What Crum Says About:



SPRING PRACTICE

"I think we accomplished a great deal in the spring. We made good strides toward developing some depth. We also got a good look at both of our top two quarterbacks. Overall, I was pleased with our progress."

THE 1980 SCHEDULE

"I believe it's a pretty tough one. I think it places a big burden on our defense since we have some very difficult games early. Offense always comes along a little slower than defense so our defensive unit may have to carry us in those first few games."

RON WOOTEN

"Last year I said Jim Ritcher was the best offensive lineman in the ACC, but that I felt Ron was close to him. Well, now he's in that class. He possesses everything a great offensive lineman needs—size, strength, speed, quickness, intelligence and experience. He should have a great senior season."

THE OFFENSE

"We can be a good offensive football team. We simply must eliminate mental errors and turnovers. We still don't have the depth we need, especially in the offensive line. We're going to be young at wide receiver so we need some people to improve and develop there.

THE DEFENSE

"I think we have more depth on defense than any time since we've been here. There is no question that replacing (Ricky) Barden and (Buddy) Curry will be difficult. We've lost a lot of experience in those two guys. But, I'm optimistic about out defense. I feel our defensive front can really be an outstanding one."

LAWRENCE TAYLOR

"When he has his mind on his business, he's as good as there is. I'm talking about everybody in the country now. He is that talented. But, he's got to be mentally ready every Saturday. As coaches, we can help him get there. But, in the end, he has to develop that intensity himself. If he does, he's going to be a great one."

THE QUARTERBACK SITUATION

"Chuck (Sharpe) has a slight lead based on his experience as a freshman. However, Rod (Elkins) should push him for the job this fall. We don't think the minor knee injury Rod had this summer will bother him so we should be in good shape here. I think both these guys are capable of being fine quarterbacks."

AMOS LAWRENCE

"The only question about him is 'Can he stay healthy?' When you count up his actual playing time in his first three seasons, he has really only played about six games a year. Yet he has still gained over 1,000 yards each season. If he can stay healthy, he's capable of producing 1,800 to 2,000 yards. He is that kind of tailback. The type of senior season he has will depend on how much he's able to play."

THE INCOMING FRESHMEN

"I believe this is going to be a good freshman class. We've got some people capable of coming in and helping us in their first year and we're counting on them to do just that. There are some spots where we need depth and some freshmen have the potential to provide it."

CONCERNS

"When we came here in 1978 Carolina had just lost a very close game to Nebraska in the Liberty Bowl. That got people very excited and I'm afraid a little too much was expected the following fall. Now we've just beaten Michigan in the Gator Bowl and again people are very excited. That's good. I'm glad people are enthusiastic about our team.

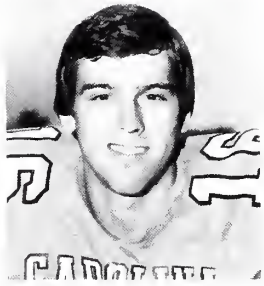
"However, I just hope people aren't expecting too much. Don't get me wrong. I think we're going to be a pretty good football team. But, I know some very minor things can go wrong and mess up a season. I also know we're faced with a difficult schedule.

"Thus, my major concern is that our fans not have unreasonable expectations about our team. If they do, that could put unnecessary pressure on our kids and end up hurting us."

The Tar Heels

JESSE ADAMS
Tailback
6-0, 200, Sophomore
Durham, N.C.

A walk-on who played on the junior varsity last season... Caught a 40-yard touchdown pass in a game against Ferrum... Best rushing performance was 58 yards on 10 carries against Duke... Has great speed... Needs to improve his hand-eye coordination... Also needs to be a better inside runner... With improved toughness, could eventually play... Track star at Northern Durham High... Ran on state championship 440 and 880-relay teams as a senior there... Majoring in psychology.



BROOKS BARWICK
Kicking Specialist
5-10, 165, Sophomore
Clinton, N.C.

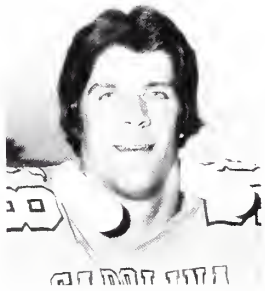
Handled the place-kicking on the junior varsity last season... A conventional kicker, he made field goals of 21, 23 and 30 yards in the jayvee games... Has the ability to be a major-college kicker... Good athlete... Needs to get bigger and stronger... Non-scholarship player... All-metro as a senior at Episcopal High in Alexandria, Va.... All-conference as both a junior and a senior... Athlete he most admires is Mark Moseley... Enjoys water-skiing and surfing... Plans to major in business.

DANNY BARLOW
Outside Linebacker
6-1, 188, Junior
Moravian Falls, N.C.

An excellent specialty team player last season... Made five tackles and had two assists... Had seen some action on special teams as a freshman and had also done a good job... Being counted on in that area again this fall... A reserve at the closed outside linebacker... Hard worker... Very coachable young man... Should get some playing time... Played mainly on the junior varsity as a freshman... Linebacker and offensive guard at Wilkes Central High School... Played in the Shrine Bowl and the North-South All-Star Game... Outstanding high school wrestler... Enjoys fishing... Majoring in criminal justice.

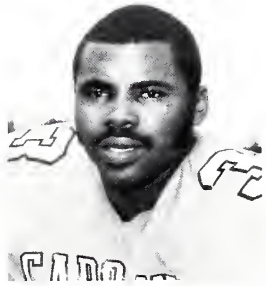
ANDY BRANIN
Defensive Back
5-9, 175, Senior
Cherry Hill, N.J.

Saw action on the junior varsity last fall... Hard worker... Biggest drawbacks are lack of size and experience... Goes into the season as a backup at cornerback... Non-scholarship player... Was a member of the Carolina swimming team as a freshman... Hobby is coin collecting... Athlete he most admires is former Tar Heel linebacker John Bunting... Good student in business.



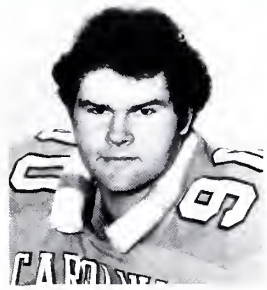
BOB BARNUM
Offensive Guard
6-4, 244, Sophomore
Chippewa Lake, Ohio

Finished the spring behind Ron Wooten at left guard... Was redshirted last year after playing on the 1978 junior varsity... Made some improvement in the spring... A hard worker who has a good knowledge of the game... Solid technician with good feet... Has added some weight in his time here, but still needs a little more strength and explosiveness coming off the ball... Has worked a lot in the weight room to gain that... A two-way tackle at Cloverleaf High... All-county, all-conference and all-district there... Junior and senior class president... Says his biggest thrill in sports was last year's Gator Bowl victory... Athletes he most admires are track stars Mac Wilkins and Brian Oldfield... Majoring in business administration.



TYRESS BRATTON
Defensive Back
6-0, 180, Senior
Thomasville, N.C.

Starting cornerback for the first eight games last fall... Suffered an ankle injury at Maryland and never fully recovered... Missed the Clemson game and played behind Larry Winters in the last two regular-season games and the Gator Bowl... Had seven solo tackles and 10 assists... Also broke up two passes in the secondary... Suffered a broken arm in spring practice and missed the last half of the off-season drills... Will battle David Singleton for the starting spot at one cornerback this fall... Very coachable... Has good size... A hard worker who enjoys the game... Runs very well... Played mainly on the specialty teams in his first two seasons... Had a pass interception as a freshman at Northwestern... A linebacker at Thomasville High... Was student body president there as a senior... Also ran track (high hurdles) and played basketball... Likes all outdoor sports... Favorite athlete is Muhammed Ali... Majoring in industrial relations.



JOHN BRUGOS
Defensive Tackle
6-2, 238, Senior
Blackstone, Va.

Will go into the fall as the backup at right tackle after starting there all 12 games last season... Moved down on the depth chart because of Harry Stanback's super spring... Brugos should push him for the starting job this fall, however... Played fairly well last season... Not spectacular, but a steady player,.. Had sacks against Wake Forest and East Carolina... Also had a fumble recovery against the Deacons... Finished the year with 30 tackles and 37 assists... Started six games as a sophomore before being sidelined by an injury... Saw only limited varsity action as a freshman... Capable of being a fine tackle... Size has been his problem in the past... Has gotten bigger and stronger in the last year... Hard worker in the weight room... Has good speed and quickness... A smart player... Tough, but a quality person... Worked hard during the summer to prepare for his senior year... Will definitely see plenty of action... All-district tackle in football and first baseman in baseball at Nottoway High... Athlete he most admires is Jack Lambert... His teammates call him The Ghost... Majoring in recreation.

KELVIN BRYANT
Tailback
6-2, 185, Sophomore
Tarboro, N.C.

Possibly Carolina's top big-play threat... Has awesome talent... Capable of doing it all... Teams with Amos Lawrence to give Carolina the best one-two punch in America at tailback... Should be a major factor in the Tar Heel offense... Has great, great speed... Exceptionally tough... Gives 100 per cent all the time... Coachable young man... Fine receiver... Is going to get a lot of playing time... Needs to be a little bigger to be a more complete back... Gained 149 yards on 42 carries as a freshman... Suffered a separated shoulder against Army and missed the next six games... Was Carolina's leading rusher (78 yards) in win over Pittsburgh... His only touchdown came on a short plunge against South Carolina... Did a good job in the spring... Gained 90 yards on 21 carries in the Blue-White Game... Won the game with a 46-yard touchdown catch as the horn sounded, 23-20... Came to Chapel Hill after a great career at Tarboro High... Scored 24 touchdowns as a senior, running for 1,420 yards... Was the state 100-yard dash champion as a junior... Won the 220 and the long jump as a senior... Ran a 9.29 in the 100 as a senior... Played in the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Also a fine basketball player... Biggest thrill in sports was his TD against South Carolina... Athlete he most admires is Chuck Foreman... Plans to major in recreation.

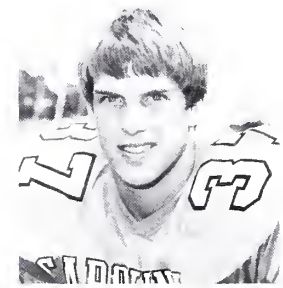
DANNY BUNN
Fullback
5-11, 214, Sophomore
Goldsboro, N.C.

Was injured most of his freshman year... Definitely can be a factor... Has all the tools to play... Has good speed... Tough... Coachable... The key will be how he recovers from his injuries... If he's healthy, he should challenge for playing time... Saw limited action on the junior varsity last season... Gained 67 yards on eight carries against Fork Union... Football, wrestling and track star at Goldsboro High... Gained over 1,000 yards rushing as a junior, but was injured most of his senior year... State wrestling champ as a junior... Played in the North-South Football Game... Says his biggest thrill in sports was playing in his first game at Carolina—as a specialty team member against Pittsburgh... Athlete he most admires is his brother, James Bunn... Enjoys drawing and painting... Plans to major in studio art.



ALAN BURRUS
Fullback
5-11, 193, Junior
Shelby, N.C.

Had a great spring... Moved to offense after playing in the secondary last fall... Goes into the season as the number two fullback... However, capable of being a swing man at either tailback or fullback... Played tailback at times in the spring because of injuries to Amos Lawrence and Kelvin Bryant... Has the speed to play there... Has the toughness and blocking ability to play fullback... Good hands and quickness... Intelligent player with a good attitude... Coachable... A tough competitor who just needs to get a little bit bigger... Scored in the Blue-White Game with a one-yard run... An offensive back as a freshman, Alan split time with David Singleton at one cornerback last year... Also played a great deal on the specialty teams... Had 24 tackles and 30 assists... Also broke up five passes in the secondary... A star halfback at Shelby High... Sparked his team to the 1976 state championship... Played in the 1977 Shrine Bowl... Enjoys scuba-diving, hang-gliding and sky-diving... Major is geology... Would like to work on an oil rig.

MIKE CHATHAM
Tight End
6-2, 205, Senior
Elkin, N.C.

One of the biggest surprises of the Atlantic Coast Conference season last fall... Came from fourth string to win All-ACC honors... Got an opportunity to play and took advantage of it... Although he wasn't a starter, he split time with Shelton Robinson at tight end... A truly great receiver... Caught eight touchdown passes, tying the ACC single-season record and setting a new school mark... Only six players in America had more TD catches... Led the Tar Heels in receiving with 29 catches and was third in the ACC... Saw only brief action in the opener with South Carolina and did not play the following week because of a thigh injury... Caught at least one pass in every other game, however... Really came into prominence in the Cincinnati game with three receptions for 75 yards and one TD... His 58-yard touchdown catch in that game was the longest scoring play of the Tar Heel season... Made 10 catches against Wake Forest, equalling the second-best single-game effort in Carolina history... His 144 yards on catches in that game was the fourth-highest total in school history... Had two scoring catches against both Wake Forest and Maryland... Other touchdowns came against Cincinnati, East Carolina, Virginia and Duke... Worked hard last year to make it and that paid off... Now an important part of the Tar Heel offense... Hadn't seen playing time prior to last year because of lack of size and inconsistency... Overcame all that in his all-star junior season... Still doesn't have great size, but has made good improvement as a blocker... Had a fine spring and should be headed for another super season... Should be one of the team leaders... A non-scholarship player, Mike played on the junior varsity most of his first and third seasons here... Was red-shirted in his season year... Played defensive back as a freshman before being shifted to tight end... Tailback and defensive end at Elkin High School... Has also played jayvee basketball at Carolina... Majoring in business.

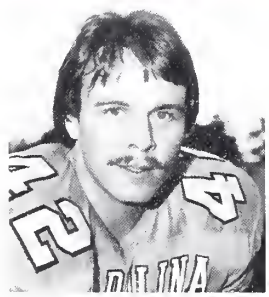
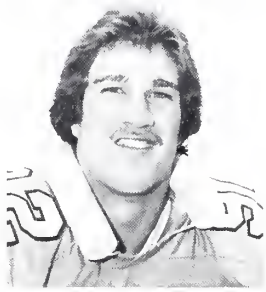
BOBBY COBB
Wide Receiver
6-0, 175, Sophomore
Mebane, N.C.

A walk-on who showed some good things in the spring... A hustler with a positive attitide... Lack of experience puts him behind the other receivers... Had a 19-yard catch in the spring game... Captain of his Orange High School team in 1978... All-conference selection at end... Plans to major in RTVMP... Would like to be a television broadcaster.



JIM CONIS
Outside Linebacker
6-0, 205, Sophomore
Harrisonburg, Va.

Finished the spring as a backup at the closed outside linebacker... Lacks the experience and strength right now to contend for a starting berth... A hard worker with a good knowledge of the game... Has a good instinct for the ball... Played on the junior varsity last season and had an interception against Fork Union... An all-state linebacker at Harrisonburg High... Earned eight varsity letters there in football and wrestling... Regional wrestling champ as a junior and senior... Third in the state as a senior... Member of the National Honor Society... Plans to major in chemistry and then do graduate work.



JOE CONWELL
Defensive Tackle
6-5, 235, Sophomore
Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

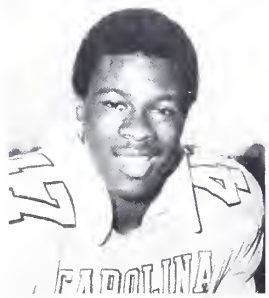
Had a good spring and finished as one of the backups at tackle... Capable of being a fine player... Has a lot of tools... Needs to get bigger and stronger... Played outside linebacker until the third week of the season last fall and then was shifted to tackle... Played mainly on the jayvees... An all-city and all-area performer at Lower Merion High near Philadelphia... All-league and all-area in basketball... Says his biggest thrill in sports was signing a national letter to Carolina... Athlete he most admires is Charles Waddell... Plans to major in psychology.

KEITH COWELL
Tight End
6-1, 195, Sophomore
Bayboro, N.C.

A high school wide receiver, Keith was moved to tight end last fall... Works hard, but lacks experience at this position... Needs to add weight and strength... Saw action on the junior varsity last season... All-conference in both football and basketball at Pamlico County High School... His brother, Johnny, was a tight end here in the early 1970's... Plans to major in industrial relations.

BILL CRAWFORD
Offensive Tackle
6-5, 250, Sophomore
Fairfax, Va.

Finished spring practice as a backup at right tackle... Has the potential to play... Has a good attitude... Was red-shirted last year... Grew and got stronger last fall... Played on the junior varsity two years ago... Came to Carolina as a defensive tackle, but was shifted to offense as a freshman... An all-district lineman at W.T. Woodson High... His brother, Greg, will be a freshman lineman here this year... Says his biggest thrill in sports was playing on the Maryland state football championship team as a freshman at Howard High... Majoring in business.

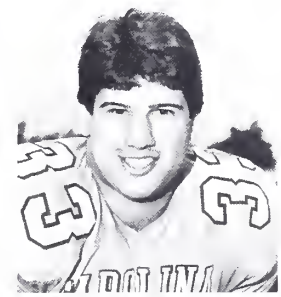


CALVIN DANIELS
Outside Linebacker
6-3, 231, Junior
Goldsboro, N.C.

Has the potential to be one of the premier defensive players in the Atlantic Coast Conference... Great natural ability... Good all-around athlete... Has speed, size, strength and quickness... Started most of last season at the closed outside linebacker... Got better and better all year as he gained more experience... Played with more confidence each week... May have played his best game at Virginia with three solo tackles, an interception, a fumble recovery and one pass broken up... Had eight tackles and five assists at Duke, including two tackles for losses... Was in on five tackles, deflected two passes and had an interception against Wake Forest... Finished the year with 43 tackles, 19 assists, seven tackles for losses and two interceptions... Teams with Lawrence Taylor to give Carolina a superb pair of outside linebackers... Capable of playing either side, but will start on the closed side of the field... Has displayed the ability to cover the pass as well as defend the run... Played defensive tackle on the jayvees in 1978 and was shifted to outside linebacker the following spring... Had been a defensive tackle at Goldsboro High... An all-conference and All-East selection there... Played in the East-West All-Star Game... Lists the 1979 Gator Bowl as his biggest thrill in sports... Majoring in RTVMP... Interested in being a TV cameraman.

PAUL DAVIS
Nose Guard
6-2, 220, Senior
Appalachia, Va.

Carolina's starting nose guard... Played in all 12 games last season... Split playing time with Bob Duncan at this position, starting on occasion... Got better and better throughout the season... Has only been at this spot a year... Had been an outside linebacker until the spring of 1979 when he was moved to nose guard... Has a lot of savvy just to have played the nose that short length of time... Has great athletic ability... Strong and tough... Runs very well... Fine speed gives him the ability to make the big play... Needs to add a little more weight... Did a good job in spring practice... Had 28 tackles and 23 assists last year... Six of his tackles were for losses, including one sack... Made a big play against N.C. State when he stopped Scott Smith for no gain on a fourth-and-one situation at the Carolina 28... Tar Heels then went 72 yards for a TD and a 21-7 lead... Also played especially well at Virginia and against Wake Forest... Played very well in the Gator Bowl... Had a fumble recovery in that game and also made a big play in downing a punt on the Michigan one-yard line... Did a good job all year on punt coverage and punt return teams... Starred in football, basketball and track at Appalachia High... Best book he's read is The Magic of Thinking Big... Very popular player... Says his biggest thrill in sports has been being a part of the Carolina team.



RON DeMARCO
Tailback
5-11, 192, Senior
Yonkers, N.Y.

Number three tailback going into the fall... Also capable of playing fullback... Tough, heady player... Understands the offense well... Picks up things quickly... Has a great desire to succeed... Hard worker... Can be a factor this year... Does a good job of running routes and catching the ball... Could be an asset in the passing game because of that... Needs a little better speed... Did a good job on the special teams last year and should see action there again this season... Had six carries for 20 yards at Army in his top rushing effort last fall... Had mainly seen jayvee action until last season... Had a great high school career at Cardinal Spellman in the Bronx... Holds the all-time New York City career rushing record... All-city as a junior and a senior... MVP in the New York State Catholic Senior Bowl... His brother, Bob, was his high school coach... Enjoys fishing... Athlete he most admires is teammate Ron Wooten... Majoring in history.

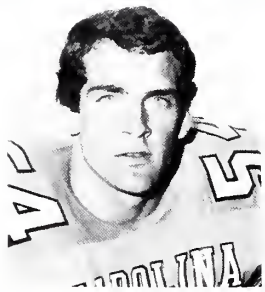
RICK DONNALLEY
Center
6-2, 250, Senior
Raleigh, N.C.

After playing in the shadow of Jim Ritcher for two years, Donnalley now rates as the Atlantic Coast Conference's best center... Had a good junior season... Got better and better each week... Was sensational at N.C. State, grading 89 per cent... Did a good job in the Gator Bowl... But, actually played well almost every week... Consistency, in fact, is one of his best traits... Has lettered in each of his first three seasons and started the last two... Has made steady progress throughout his career... Very dedicated... Every day he goes on the practice field, he tries to leave it a better player... Big and strong... Tough... Has good quickness... Very coachable... Has excellent work habits... Always carries out his assignments... Seems to play his best in the big games... Likes to lift weights and is one of the team's strongest players... A team leader... Did a good job as a sophomore although he missed two games with a foot injury... Played mainly on the special teams as a freshman... Will be one of the nation's top centers this fall... Also is outstanding off the field... Has the highest cumulative quality point average on the team... Has made the ACC All-Academic Team for the last two seasons... A high school fullback and linebacker... Also was a heavyweight wrestling champion at Sanderson High... All-conference in football as both a junior and senior... Wake County Player of the Year as a senior... Athlete he most admires is Pittsburgh Steeler center Mike Webster... Says his greatest thrill in sports was Carolina's 16-15 win over Duke in 1978... Has two pet chameleons... His major is business administration.

RICK DOWNS
Outside Linebacker
6-3, 209, Junior
Woodbridge, Va.

Missed all of last season because of a broken ankle suffered the previous spring... Had been running first team at the time of that injury... If he can return to his old form, he'll get playing time this fall... Finished last spring as a reserve at the open-side outside linebacker... Got game experience in 1978 at inside linebacker... Had played on the specialty teams as a freshman... Also participated in basketball, baseball and track at Garfield High... Enjoys water-skiing and volleyball.



DAVID DRECHSLER
Offensive Guard
6-4, 240, Sophomore
Cleveland, N.C.

A key man in the Carolina offensive line... Goes into the fall as the number two right guard, but is capable of playing all five interior positions... That versatility and his ability make him a big asset to the program... Played as a backup last year... Started the Clemson game at right guard, but suffered a knee injury on the game's second play... Missed the last two regular-season games and the Gator Bowl... Should be 100 percent this fall... Came to Carolina in the fall of 1978, but injured a knee in the pre-season and did not play at all... Got an extra year of eligiblity because of that... Very intelligent... Picks up things quickly... An intense individual... Physically and mentally tough... Has fine quickness... Capable of being an all-star performer... A positive person... Good student who is interested in business and law... End, guard and tackle at West Rowan High... Athlete he most admires is discus thrower Mac Wilkins.

ROD ELKINS
Quarterback
6-1, 195, Sophomore
Greensboro, N.C.

Goes into the fall as the number two quarterback... Expected to challenge Chuck Sharpe for the starting job this season... Sure to see a lot of action... Came on in the last half of spring practice... Showed great poise for a freshman... Throws the ball exceptionally well... Has done a fine job of learning to read secondaries... Picks up new things very well... His only problem is he's never been under the gun in a varsity game... Was the third-string quarterback last year, but only saw action in the Army game and that came after the outcome had been decided... Did a good job on the junior varsity... Completed 30 of 48 passes in three games for a percentage of .625... Threw for 446 yards and five touchdowns... Hit 15 of 21 passes for 208 yards and three TDs against Duke... Completed eight of 17 passes for 94 yards in the spring game... His 46-yard TD pass to Kelvin Bryant on the game's last play gave his team a 23-20 victory... Also ran for 41 yards in that game, scoring on a six-yard run... A potential pro prospect... Suffered a slight knee injury in the early summer, but should be ready to go this fall... Great all-around athlete at Greensboro Grimsley... All-conference in football, basketball and baseball as a senior... Took his team to the state football playoffs as both a junior and a senior... Also led his basketball team to two straight state tournaments... Excellent shortstop in baseball... Plans to major in business.

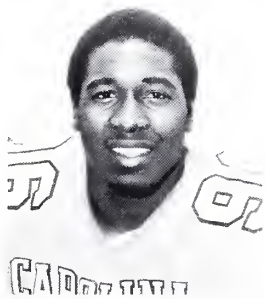
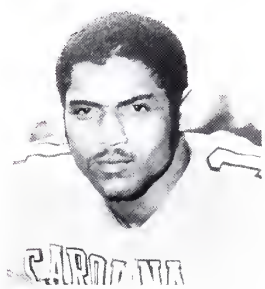
BRYAN FERREE
Wide Receiver
5-11, 180, Senior
Shelby, N.C.

A transfer student who came out on his own last fall... Was ineligible to play because of his transfer, so saw action strictly on the scout team... Did a good job there... Had been a defensive end prior to coming to Carolina... Thus, he lacks experience at this position... All-conference as a senior at Shelby High... President of the student body there... Active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes... Major is RTVMP... Would like to be a sportscaster.



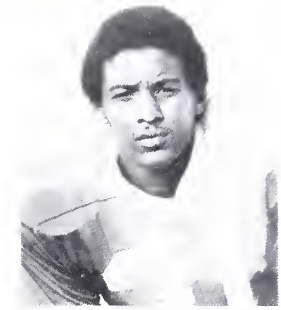
STEVE FORTSON
Nose Guard
6-2, 220, Freshman
Dayton, Ohio

Had a shoulder injury last fall and did not play... Gets an extra year of eligibility because of that... Good athlete who has the ability to play... Pushed in the spring for a backup position at nose guard... Needs to get bigger and stronger... Also needs experience and polish... All-league performer at Alter High School... Also wrestled there... Hobbies are music, swimming and cooking... Says his biggest thrill in sports was signing a letter of intent with Carolina... Undecided on his college major.



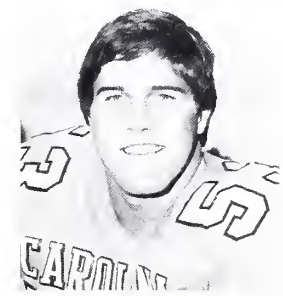
TRAVIS FREEMAN
Tailback
6-1, 203, Junior
Jacksonville, N.C.

Played on the junior varsity last season... Goes into the fall as a reserve tailback... Has played fullback in the past and could also be used there... A possibility for some of the specialty teams... An easy-going, but tough young man... Has tremendous strength... Member of Carolina's "4.0 Club"... In two lifts, bench press and body squat, he can lift four times his body weight... Competed in football, basketball, wrestling and track at Jacksonville High... Majoring in commercial art.



CHARLIE HAMPTON
Defensive Back
6-1, 185, Junior
London, Ohio

Behind Larry Winters at one cornerback going into the fall... Should give Carolina some depth there... Could also help on the special teams... Has seen limited action there in his first two seasons... Good athlete... Fine size... Excellent worker who has a good attitude... Very good against the run... Needs to improve his overall pass defense... Lack of experience is a problem... Had an interception in the spring game... A fine runningback at London High.



JIMBO HARRELL
Deep Snapper
6-0, 212, Junior
Burgaw, N.C.

Handles all the deep snaps for punts and placements... Has been near-perfect in his two years in that role... Only one bad snap last year, that coming on an extra point in the Army game... Does a good job getting downfield to cover punts... Had two tackles and three assists last year... Very coachable... Quality person who is well-liked by his teammates... Fullback and linebacker at Pender High... Played in the North-South All-Star Game... Likes sailing and water-skiing... Athletes he most admires are Buddy Curry and the late Jimmy Jerome... Biggest thrill in sports was last year's Gator Bowl... An excellent student in business administration... Interested in law school.

VICTOR HARRISON
Wide Receiver
5-9, 162, Sophomore
Warrenton, N.C.

In the battle for a starting spot at split end... Whether he starts or not, he will get a lot of playing time... Saw action in six games last year... Was used on kickoff returns late in the year although he only got to bring two back for 44 yards... Has very good speed... Excellent moves... Just doesn't have a lot of experience... Scored four touchdowns in a jayvee game against Duke and had a fifth called back because of a penalty... Had five catches in that game for 71 yards and three TDs... Other score came on an 88-yard kickoff return... Returned 13 kickoffs for touchdowns as a senior at John Graham High School... Also competed in baseball, basketball and track there... MVP in four sports as a senior... All-state in football... Biggest thrill was winning the Gator Bowl last year... Plans to major in RTVMP... Wants to be a sports broadcaster.

JEFF HAYES
Kicking Specialist
6-0, 169, Junior
Elkin, N.C.

Soccer-style kicker who handles all the place-kicks... Has the talent to be one of the nation's premier kickers... Scored 53 points last year, making 35 straight extra points and six of 12 field goals... Seemed to get more poise with each game... Field goal kicking was good down the stretch as his confidence improved... Kicked a 47-yarder with 13 seconds to play to tie East Carolina... That matched his career longest set against Miami as a freshman... Equalled that again three weeks later at Virginia... His 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter proved to be the difference in Carolina's 17-15 Gator Bowl victory over Michigan... In the regular season his field goals covered 43, 27, 47, 40, 47 and 45 yards... His misses came from 49, 45, 44, 35, 51 and 52... His five field goals of over 40 yards were a single-season school record... He already holds the career mark of 40-yard field goals with seven... Was the first kicker in school history to have a perfect season kicking PATs... Now has a string of 41 straight successful PATs in regular-season play... That is also a school record... Consistency was better last year than in his freshman season... Made eight of 20 field goals that year and 19 of 22 extra points... Missed three field goals in the season opener that year against East Carolina and that hurt his confidence for a long time... Worked with former Penn State star Chris Bahr after his freshman season and that helped him last year... Over 70 percent of his kickoffs went into the end zone... Had a 53-yard field goal in the spring game... Has developed his total body in his time here... Added 15 to 20 pounds to his frame... In addition to kicking, he also played quarterback at Elkin High... Was the MVP in the 1977 Shrine Bowl... Favorite athlete is Ray Guy... Majoring in RTVMP.

DAVID HEMPHILL
Wide Receiver
6-1, 186, Sophomore
Ellicott City, Md.

Listed as the number two flanker on the depth chart, but capable of playing either wide receiver position... Showed spurts of excellent play in the spring... Needs to be more consistent... Has the ability to make a contribution this fall... Will get playing time... Started on the junior varsity last fall... Had eight catches against Duke for 130 yards... Made four catches against Fork Union, one of them a 43-yard touchdown reception... Strangely, he had a 74-yard catch against Carolina while playing at Fork Union in 1978... Was salutatorian at Fork Union... Was an all-metro end at Glenelg High School... Enjoys lacrosse and water sports... Wants to major in chemistry... Interested in dental school.

LEE ICKES
Defensive Tackle
6-0, 229, Sophomore
Wheelersburg, Ohio

Played on the junior varsity last fall... Came on and did a pretty good job in the spring... Tough kid who is a hard worker... Lacks size right now... A reserve this fall... Popular with his teammates... An all-state linebacker at Wheelersburg High School... Conference lineman of the year as a senior... Undecided on his college major.

BILL JACKSON
Defensive Back
6-1, 195, Junior
Winston-Salem, N.C.

Heir apparent to Ricky Barden's strong safety position... Saw limited action behind Barden last fall... However, he played well in the second half of the Maryland game when Barden was shifted to cornerback... Had three solo tackles in that game and an assist... Did a good job in the spring to win the starting spot... Just needs experience to be a solid player... A hard worker with a good attitude... Aggressive and enthusiastic... Has good range... Can run and is a hitter... A linebacker on the same North Forsyth High School team as current teammate Darrell Nicholson... Likes backgammon and basketball... Majoring in RTVMP.

BILLY JOHNSON
Fullback
6-1, 249, Senior
Buckingham, Va.

Came back from a knee injury to do a great job as Doug Paschal's backup last season... Now is set as the starting fullback... A truly great young man who appears headed for a super senior season... Tough inside runner and a brusing blocker... Has great strength and good speed for a man of his size... Coachable and a hard worker... Made good improvement in the spring... Especially improved his toughness... Now playing with pain better than in the past... Career was in jeopardy just a year ago... Suffered a broken patella against Miami in the fourth game of the 1978 season... Missed the rest of the season and all of spring practice in 1979... Got a hardship ruling and an extra year of eligibility, however... Was brought back slowly last season... Did not play in the first two games, but came on to finish as the team's third-leading rusher with 365 yards... Had big games against N.C. State (71 yards), Maryland (118) and Virginia (89)... An injury to Amos Lawrence pushed him into the starting lineup for four games at mid-season... The first was at State and he responded with his 71 yards and some fine blocking... His 118 yards at Maryland was a career high... Had been Carolina's second-leading rusher in 1977 with 357 yards... Was an alternate starter at fullback... Had 411 yards as a freshman... Had a sensational game against Clemson that year with 91 yards on 10 carries... Was awesome on one 41-yard burst in that game, breaking tackles left and right... Made two miracle catches against Florida that season to spark a 24-21 victory... It was his eight-yard TD reception which set up Carolina's winning two-point conversion in a 39-38 victory over Duke that fall... Ranks 12th in career rushing at Carolina with 1,221 yards... Humble and easy-going off the field... Acquired the nickname "Billy The Horse" in high school and that has stuck with him... Virginia's prep player of the year as a senior at Buckingham County High... Majoring in physical education.

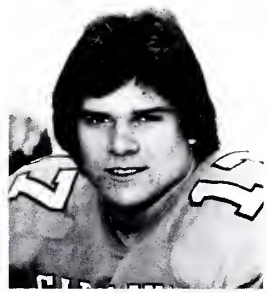
SAMMY JOHNSON
Defensive Back
6-0, 179, Sophomore
Reading, Pa.

Came on strong near the end of spring practice... Number two free safety behind Steve Streater... Has outstanding athletic ability... Has good savvy and a lot of natural instinct for playing in the secondary... Just needs to develop more confidence in himself... Contributed a great deal on the specialty teams last fall... Had five solo tackles on kick coverage... Also had one kickoff return for 16 yards... Played at Reading High and Fork Union... Undecided on a college major.



KRIS KEENEY
Linebacker
6-1, 210, Sophomore
Springfield, Va.

Number three linebacker at the end of the spring... Listed behind Lee Shaffer on the open side, but can play the closed-side position also... Should play quite a bit this fall... Missed all of last season with mononucleosis... Was red-shirted because of that... Once he got over the mono, he worked hard to get back in shape... Tough kid... Has good speed and excellent strength... Intelligent... Picks things up well... Needs to work on his tackling... Was a fine specialty team player as a freshman... All-metro linebacker in 1977 at West Springfield High... Captain of the West team in Virginia's East-West All-Star Game... Likes weightlifting and skiing... His dad, a colonel, is the congressional liaison for the Air Force... Athlete he most admires is Randy Gradishar... Says his biggest thrill in sports was playing in the first game of his freshman season against East Carolina... An accounting major.

TODD KELLY
Defensive Back
5-11, 170, Junior
Lexington, Ky.

Worked at both cornerback and free safety in the spring... Listed as a backup at free safety on the depth chart... Has played on the junior varsity for the last two years... Doesn't have great speed, but does have savvy... Lacks experience... All-star quarterback at Henry Clay High School... Played in Kentucky's East-West All-Star Game... Athletes he most admires are Roberto Duran and Bjorn Borg... Biggest thrill in sports was last year's Gator Bowl... Majoring in business.

STEVE LANCASTER
Offensive Tackle
6-3, 235, Junior
Goldsboro, N.C.

Had a very good spring... Made some improvement... Playing behind Mike Marr at right tackle... Hard worker... Determined and very coachable... Has great strength... Explosive coming off the ball... Needs to improve his agility... A non-scholarship player... An offensive tackle at Goldsboro High... Likes music and weightlifting... His major is recreation.

Why Tar Heels?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

The nickname is said to have been applied to the area's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. Tar and turpentine were in abundance in the state at that time. Legend has it that British generals noticed barefooted natives with tar on their heels and first applied the soubriquet.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. Supposedly during one particular battle the Southern forces were being routed. Only the North Carolina brigade was not being forced to retreat. Legend has it that Robert E. Lee remarked to one of his officers, "Look at those North Carolina boys. They're holding their ground like they have tar on their heels."

AMOS LAWRENCE
Tailback
5-11, 180, Senior
Norfolk, Va.

If he can stay free of injuries, this young man is capable of winning the Heisman Trophy... Famous Amos goes into his senior season with more career rushing yardage (3,273) than any other active player in the nation... Has gained over 1,000 yards in each of his first three seasons... Tony Dorsett is the only major-college player with four 1,000-yard years... Has accomplished all this despite being plagued by an assortment of injuries for the past two seasons... However, when he's healthy, there is no better runner in college football... His style of play defies description... Has tremendous speed, balance and explosiveness... His 360-degree spin has to be seen to be believed... Has worked hard in the last two years to improve his blocking, receiving and faking... An aggressive runner when he's healthy... Still hasn't reached his potential... Can be just as good as he wants to be... With more durability, he'll be a great pro...

Was slowed for five games last season by a pulled groin... Carolina was 1-3-1 in those games and 7-0 when he was healthy... Had five 100-yard games last year (South Carolina, Army, Cincinnati, Virginia and Duke)... Top effort of the year was 214 at Army... That was the third 200-yard performance of his career... Averaged 142.5 yards rushing in the regular-season games in which he was healthy... Then was named co-MVP in Carolina's 17-15 win over Michigan in the Gator Bowl... Gained 118 yards against a Wolverine defense that was keyed to stop him... Also caught five passes in that game... His 3,273 yards is the second-highest rushing total in Tar Heel history and the fourth best total ever accumulated in the ACC... Mike Voight (3,971) is the only Tar Heel ahead of him... Amos also ranks fourth at Carolina in career total offense behind Charlie Justice, Matt Kupec and Voight... Tied with Voight and Don McCauley for most 100-yard games in Tar Heel history (16)... Amos actually has 17 counting the Gator Bowl... In those 17 games, Carolina has an amazing record of 15-1-1...

Holds school and ACC single-game rushing record with 286 yards against Virginia in 1977... That is also the all-time NCAA record for a freshman... National Back of the Week after that game in Charlottesville... Led the ACC in rushing that year with 1,211 yards in 10 games... Did not play in Carolina's season opener at Kentucky... Was the first freshman ever to lead the league in a major offensive category... Finished eighth in the nation that season in rushing... Named on 124 of 125 ballots as the ACC Rookie of the Year... No other athlete in the ACC has ever come that close to being an unanimous selection for a one-man honor... Not Don McCauley, Phil Ford, David Thompson or anyone... Only started Carolina's last six games that year... In the first start of his career, he ran for 216 yards at N.C. State... Also went over the 100-mark that season against Northwestern, Wake Forest, Clemson, Virginia and Duke... Gained 35 yards on eight carries in the Liberty Bowl against Nebraska before spraining an ankle in the second period... Football News Freshman All-America first team that year and first-team Sophomore All-America the next...

Ran for 1,043 yards as a soph... Had 100-yard games against Wake Forest, South Carolina, Richmond, Virginia and Duke... Was brilliant in the season finale against Duke... Gained 167 yards and had runs of 18, 4, 21 and 11 yards in the Tar Heels' winning 61-yard touchdown drive in the final minute... That 11-yard run was for a score, giving Carolina a 16-15 victory with 13 seconds to play... Has been one of the ACC players-of-the-week eight times in his career... Longest run of his career was a 59-yard scoring burst against Clemson as a freshman... In 23 career starts he has 2,877 yards, an average of 125.1 per game... That's one reason Virginia Coach Dick Bestwick has called him "the best runningback I've ever seen. He's better than Dorsett, better than anyone."... Parade Magazine National High School Back of the Year as a junior at Lake Taylor High... In 29 varsity starts there he gained 3,616 yards and scored 49 touchdowns... Had one game there in which he rushed for 411 yards and scored five touchdowns... Still calls that his greatest thrill in sports... Athlete he most admires is Julius Erving... Majoring in recreation.

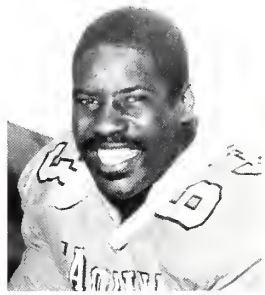
BILL LIPPINCOTT
Offensive Guard
6-3, 226, Sophomore
Atlanta, Ga.

One of the reserves at guard... Missed some valuable practice time with an injury in the spring... Came back to play in the Blue-White Game... Red-shirted last year after playing on the junior varsity in 1978... A hard worker... Has good quickness and determination... Fundamentally sound... Learns well... Needs experience and more weight... An all-state performer at Westminister... Likes reading and basketball... Athlete he most admires is Jerry Kramer... Biggest thrill in sports was last year's Gator Bowl... A good student majoring in business.

63



DONALD LUCAS
Defensive Tackle
6-4, 251, Junior
Norfolk, Va.

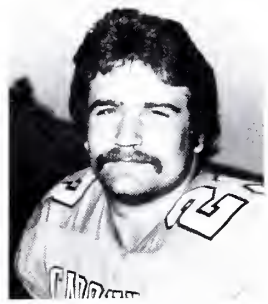
Could be a key man in the Tar Heel defense... Being counted on for depth at tackle... Was shifted from offensive guard to defense last fall... Was red-shirted so he could learn more about the position... Came on well in the spring... Has made good progress considering the short amount of time he's been at this position... Very competitive and wants to play... A hard worker... Tough... Big, strong and quick... Could eventually contend for a starting berth... Had played some at guard in his first two seasons here... In fact, made the Football News Freshman All-America team in 1977... Says his biggest thrill in sports was making his first start that year in a 27-14 win at N.C. State... Played at Lake Taylor High with Amos Lawrence and Ricky Barden, a star safety on last year's team... An all-metro performer... Also competed in wrestling and track here... His major is recreation.

56

MIKE MARR
Offensive Tackle
6-4, 250, Junior
Burlington, N.C.

Excellent player who has the ability to be one of the ACC's top linemen... Has all the tools—size, speed, quickness and intelligence... Has good strength... Mentally tough and aggressive... Has great explosiveness coming off the ball... Started the last three games of the regular season and the Gator Bowl at right tackle after being the top backup in the first eight... Now heads into the 1980 season set as the starter... A win-at-all-costs player... Good competitor... Prep All-America at Irmo High in Columbia, S.C.... Captain of the South Carolina team in the 1977 Shrine Bowl... Says playing in the Gator Bowl was his biggest thrill in sports... Good student who is majoring in business.

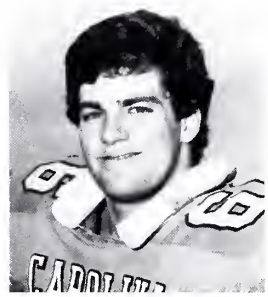
42



GORDON MAY
Fullback
5-10, 210, Sophomore
Winston-Salem, N.C.

A walk-on who saw junior varsity action last fall... Best efforts were 31 yards on six carries against Fork Union and 22 yards on six carries against Duke... Hard worker who could eventually help... Needs to improve his speed, hands and flexibility... Tough and determined... Competed in football and wrestling at Winston-Salem Reynolds... Plans to major in criminal justice.

66



BO McCORMICK
Center
6-1, 205, Senior
Miami, Fla.

A backup at center... Lack of size and strength are drawbacks... Raises Irish setters... His dad is an airline pilot... Wants to be a veterinarian... Majoring in chemistry.

82

MICK McCORMICK
Wide Receiver
6-3, 195, Senior
Clinton, Md.

Junior varsity player for the past three seasons... Best blocker of all the wide receivers, but has been inconsistent catching the football... Hustles 100 per cent of the time... A non-scholarship player... A quarterback at Surrattsville High... Also played basketball and baseball there... Majoring in business administration.

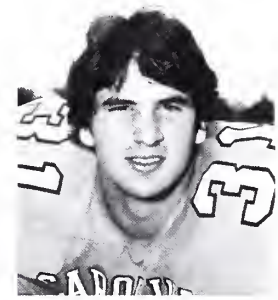
STEVE McGREW
Center
6-2, 235, Sophomore
Cincinnati, Ohio

Goes into the fall as the backup center, but could also be used at guard... Played on the junior varsity last season... Great competitor... Good second-effort player... Comes early to practice and stays late to improve... Will eventually play at Carolina... Biggest problem right now is lack of experience... Comes from a fine high school program at Moeller in Cincinnati... All-league performer there... Moeller was state champion three of the four years he was there and also won two national titles... Never missed a day of classes in his high school career... An excellent student, he plans to major in chemistry or physics... Would like to go into some form of nuclear industry as a vocation.

31



BOB McKINLEY
Fullback
6-2, 210, Sophomore
Bay Village, Ohio

Has been injured much of his time in Chapel Hill... Missed almost all of spring practice... An unknown quantity because of that... Good size and natural strength... Needs experience... An all-conference player at Lakewood St. Edward High... Athlete he most admires is Mike Pruitt... Plans to major in business administration.

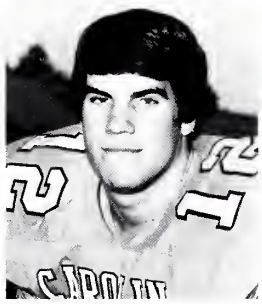
ALEX MEBANE
Defensive Back
6-0, 180, Sophomore
Burlington, N.C.

Junior varsity player last fall... Very hard-working kid... Has a good attitude... Finished the spring as a reserve at strong safety... Could get playing time on the specialty teams... Football co-captain as a senior at Walter Williams High School... Also captained the track team... Active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes... Says his biggest thrills in sports were playing in a state championship game in high school and making the Carolina squad as a walk-on... Athlete he most admires is Mike O'Koren... Majoring in history and education... Would like to be a high school teacher and coach.

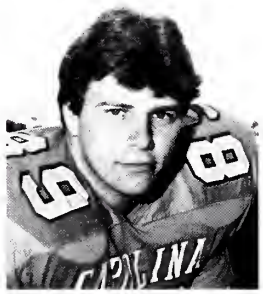
31



CHUCK MONROE
Defensive Back
5-9, 175, Senior
Winston-Salem, N.C.

Finished the spring as a reserve at cornerback... Non-scholarship player whose only playing time has been in jayvee games... Lack of size is his biggest problem... All-conference quarterback at West Forsyth High School... Also played basketball and baseball there... Majoring in accounting... Would like to work for the FBI.

37



CRAIG MOON
Linebacker
5-10, 190, Junior
Merchantville, N.J.

Walk-on who has done an excellent job on the scout team... Has contributed a great deal to the varsity that way... Hustles and works hard all the time... Has a lot of determination... Lack of size hurts him some... Has played on the jayvees for the last two years... Had an interception against Ferrum last fall... Possibility for the special teams this fall... Member of the 4.0 Club, Carolina's strongest players... Fullback and linebacker at Fort Union... Enjoys all water sports... Athlete he most admires is his father... Undecided on a college major.

TIM MOORE
Nose Guard
5-9, 184, Senior
Wilson, N.C.

Has played in both the offensive and defensive lines in his time at Carolina... Just doesn't have great size... Always gives a good effort... Respected by his teammates... Offensive lineman at Fike High... Athlete he most admires is Jerry Kramer... Calls the 1979 Gator Bowl his biggest thrill in sports... Has a double major in chemistry and psychology... Wants to go to medical school.

29

DARRELL NICHOLSON
Linebacker
6-2, 232, Junior
Winston-Salem, N.C.

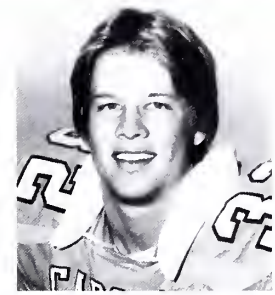
Unanimous selection on the coaches' pre-season All-ACC team... Ready to begin his third year as a starter at linebacker... A very tough football player... Knows no speed but full speed... That's true even in practice... Always goes all-out... His best asset may simply be his ability to hit people... Knows where the football is and makes something happen when he gets there... Bigger and stronger than last year...Has improved his pass coverage... A natural leader... With Buddy Curry gone, Nick will have the added responsibilities of calling defenses... Carolina's second-leading tackler last year... Had 101 solo tackles and 46 assists... Intercepted passes against South Carolina and Virginia... May have played the greatest game of his career against Clemson with 19 tackles and six assists... Had the "hit of the game" six times last year... One of those was at Maryland where he actually knocked out Charlie Wysocki with a head-on tackle... ACC Rookie of the Year as a freshman... Started the last eight games that season...ACC Rookie of the Week twice... Brilliant at Clemson with 16 tackles, two of them for losses... Intercepted a pass against Miami... First-team Freshman All-America... High School All-America at North Forsyth... Already in that school's Hall of Fame... Also wrestled there, finishing second in the state at heavyweight... Majoring in communications.

64

JACK PARRY
Nose Guard
6-1, 230, Sophomore
Mechanicsburg, Pa.

In the fight for the backup nose guard spot... Started on the junior varsity last year as a defensive tackle... Shifted to the nose in the spring... Very strong and tough... Loves to play and gives 100 per cent all the time... Will eventually get playing time, perhaps as quickly as this fall... Member of the wrestling team last winter... Got a late start because of football... Still finished third in the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships at heavyweight... All-metro in football and All-America in wrestling at Mechanicsburg High... State wrestling runner-up as a junior and state champ as a senior... Plans to major in business.

32



GREG POOLE
Defensive Back
6-1, 185, Sophomore
China Grove, N.C.

One of the most pleasant surprises on defense in spring practice... Worked at strong safety and did a fine job... Had an interception in the Blue-White Game... Goes into the fall behind Bill Jackson at that spot... Also capable of playing free safety... Without question, he'll get playing time this season... Good athlete... Has fine size... Very coachable... Has a bright future here... Specialty team player last fall... Also had a 65-yard punt return for a touchdown in a junior varsity game against Fork Union... All-state and conference MVP as a senior at South Rowan High School... Also competed in baseball and basketball there... Plays the trombone, drums and piano... An excellent student, he plans to major in computer science.

JEFF PIERCE
Outside Linebacker
6-0, 201, Junior
Hickory, N.C.

Sure to see a lot of action at outside linebacker... Finished the spring behind Calvin Daniels at the closed OLB... Started a couple of games early last year and saw considerable action throughout the season... Also played on the specialty teams... Had 18 tackles and eight assists... Also had a key fumble recovery at N.C. State to set up a touchdown... Has good intelligence... A steady performer... Works hard all the time... Doesn't make mental mistakes... Has worked hard on the weights to improve his strength, explosion and speed... Hard-nosed competitor... A non-scholarship player who was a defensive back on the junior varsity as a freshman... Switched to outside linebacker in the spring of 1979 and responded with great work in the off-season drills... Fullback and linebacker at Hickory High and Episcopal High... Majoring in zoology... Would like to go to med school.

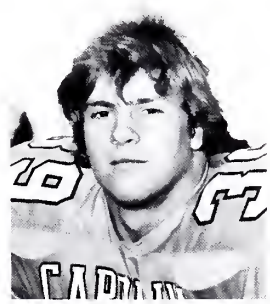
GUY RANDOLPH
Defensive Back
5-11, 160, Sophomore
Newtown, Pa.

Has been injured off and on since coming to Carolina... Was a junior varsity player last season... Had ankle surgery in the spring... Really has not had an opportunity to show what he can do... All-conference at Council Rock High... Athlete he most admires is his father... Plans to major in communications... Would like to be a television director or producer.

60



JOHN PITTS
Linebacker
6-1, 215, Sophomore
Toronto, Canada

Walk-on who was a jayvee linebacker last year... Had interceptions in games against Fork Union and Duke... His experience with football here so far has mainly been a learning one... However, he eventually will be a player... Just needs work and experience... Has a good attitude and wants to learn... An avid weightlifter, he's one of the team's strongest players... Played basketball and football at St. Andrew's in Toronto... Plans to major in business administration.

DAN RICHARDSON
Nose Guard
5-10, 235, Junior
Castalia, N.C.

Lettered last season at defensive tackle... Did a good job in a reverse role and on punt return team... Moved to nose guard in the spring... Played well and goes into the fall as the number two man there... Hard worker... Has gained some weight since last season... One of the team's strongest players... Tough to block because of his height... Has pretty good quickness... A walk-on who played linebacker on the 1978 junior varsity... Linebacker and offensive guard at Southern Nash High... Calls the Gator Bowl his greatest thrill in sports... Nickname is Mule... Majoring in Chemistry.

JON RICHARDSON
Wide Receiver
6-2, 181, Junior
Spartanburg, S.C.

Listed as the starting split end going into the fall... Whether he ends up starting or not, he will certainly get plenty of playing time... Only made five catches last year, but came on strong near the end of the season... Four of his receptions came against Clemson... Two of them were super catches... His other reception was at Army... Has a lot of talent... Runs good routes... Excellent receiver in clutch situations... Has worked hard to increase his speed... A good competitor... Suffered a broken wrist last spring, but continued to practice with a cast... Played on the jayvees as a freshman... Had nine catches in a game that year against Fork Union... Made four catches against Ferrum, three for touchdowns... Played in the secondary and at split end at Spartanburg High and Fork Union Military Academy... Private school long jump champion at Fork Union... Athlete he most admires is his father, Jerry, a former wide receiver with the Baltimore Colts... Majoring in business.

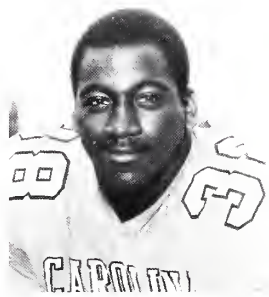
80



SHELTON ROBINSON
Tight End
6-1, 225, Junior
Goldsboro, N.C.

Here's Carolina's starting tight end... Started all 12 games as a sophomore last season... A truly outstanding blocker... Has worked hard to improve his receiving skills... Only caught two passes last year, one in the season opener against South Carolina and the other a super grab against Wake Forest... One reason for that was the emergence of Mike Chatham as a sensational receiver... Shelton, however, has developed into a good receiver himself... Has the tools to be a super tight end... A leader by example... Was awesome against Cincinnati and N.C. State last season, grading 88 per cent... Hard-nosed and tough... One of the team's strongest players... Member of Carolina's 4.0 strength club... Jayvee player as a freshman... Started out in the secondary, was shifted to outside linebacker and then to tight end... Played both ways in one jayvee game... Linebacker and halfback at Charles B. Aycock High... Also competed in track there... Calls last year's Gator Bowl his greatest sports thrill... Majoring in business.

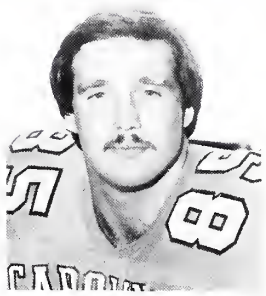
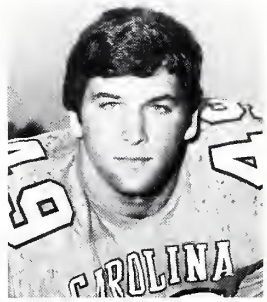
85



KEN SAYLORS
Outside Linebacker
6-2, 215, Junior
Anderson, S.C.

Did not participate in spring practice because of a knee injury suffered last fall... Has worked hard to rehabilitate the knee, but is now far behind the other players at this position... Got a late start in his freshman season because of a broken foot suffered prior to coming to Chapel Hill... Tight end at T.L. Hanna High... Played on the South Carolina Shrine Bowl team... Majoring in RTVMP.

49



LEE SHAFFER
Linebacker
6-1, 210, Junior
Durham, N.C.

One of the biggest surprises of the spring... Didn't begin the off-season work as a starting linebacker, but ended up there... Goes into the fall as the starter on the open-side of the field, a position Buddy Curry played for four years... An outside linebacker in his first two seasons here, Lee was shifted inside last spring... Thus, he lacks experience at this spot... Being counted on to pick things up in a hurry this fall... An intelligent, aggressive player... Always around the football... His best asset, in fact, may be his ability to get to the football... Pretty good leader... Has a good understanding of Carolina's defensive scheme... One of the most highly-conditioned athletes on the team... Runs very well... Did a super job on the specialty teams last fall... Also played behind Lawrence Taylor at outside linebacker... Had 12 tackles and two assists... Recovered a fumble to set up a touchdown against Pittsburgh and had a quarterback sack in that game... Also saw action at OLB as a freshman... Started the Wake Forest game that year and responded with eight tackles, including two sacks, and three assists... Given a look at strong safety in the spring of 1979, but was moved to OLB last fall... An all-metro linebacker at Episcopal High... Captained the football, basketball and track teams there... Would like to someday be a college basketball coach... His dad, Lee, Sr., was an All-America basketball player at Carolina... Majoring in business.

CHUCK SHARPE
Quarterback
6-0, 195, Junior
Burlington, N.C.

Carolina's starting quarterback going into the fall... Did an excellent job in the spring... Will be pushed by Rod Elkins for the starting spot this fall, but has the ability to keep it... Strength, speed, quickness and finesse make him a good runner... His ability to run the football will give the offense an added dimension... Has an excellent arm... Once was in the habit of forcing some passes, but has overcome that with work and repetition... Made good decisions in the spring... Showed signs of being a true leader... Coachable young man who works hard to correct his mistakes... Has the potential to be a professional quarterback... Had a 70-yard touchdown run in the spring game and threw an 18-yard TD pass to Mike Chatham... Finished that game with nine completions in 19 attempts for 132 yards... Was the number two quarterback last season... Did not play as much as he had as a freshman, however... The fine play of Matt Kupec was the reason for that... Saw action in six games, throwing just seven passes... Played in nine games as a freshman, starting five times at mid-season... ACC Rookie of the Week that year for his play against Wake Forest, South Carolina and Virginia... Had 190 yards in total offense at Wake, equalling the fourth best total by a freshman in Carolina history... Completed 14 of 22 passes that day for 149 yards... Completed 11 of 17 at South Carolina for 149 yards and three TDs... Had a 56-yard run against Virginia... Rushed for 100 yards in that game on just nine carries, scoring twice... Was the only Tar Heel quarterback in the 1970's to have a 100-yard rushing day... Despite missing the first two games that year, he still finished ninth in the ACC in total offense... Named Football News second-team Freshman All-America... Could be the backup punter this fall... Had a 43.7 punting average in the spring game... Football and baseball star at Walter Williams High School... Majoring in geology... Interested in a career in oil research.

DOUG SICKELS
Tight End
6-3, 216, Sophomore
Springfield, Ohio

Will line up as the number three tight end this fall... Made great improvement during the spring... Always has been a good receiver... Now is a much better blocker... Could get playing time this season... Starting tight end on the junior varsity last fall... Handicapped, however, by a wrist injury... All-league selection at South Springfield High... Also played baseball there... National Honor Society member... Plans to major in industrial relations.

26

DAVID SINGLETON
Defensive Back
5-11, 182, Senior
Canton, N.C.

Goes into the fall as a starter at one cornerback... Faces a battle from Tyress Bratton for that job, however... One of the toughest players on the squad... Aggressive and a hard hitter... An intense competitor... Very coachable... Has a lot of savvy... Started the last half of the 1979 season... Played a fine game against Clemson with 10 tackles and four assists... Also caused a fumble in that game... Finished the year as Carolina's seventh leading tackler with 28 tackles and 39 assists... Had played some at strong safety as a sophomore... Most of his action that season, came on the specialty teams... A regular in the junior varsity secondary as a freshman... Two-way performer at Pisgah High... Played on back-to-back state championship teams there... Also participated in basketball and track... Played in the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Majoring in business.

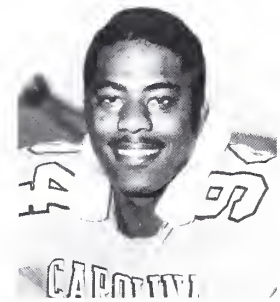
RON SPRUILL
Offensive Guard
6-2, 245, Sophomore
Hampton, Va.

Set to start at right guard in his sophomore season... Saw action as a specialty team player last fall... Good athlete who has all the tools to be a standout lineman... Hard-nosed and dedicated... Tough and aggressive... A hitter... An intense individual with good work habits... Fine pass blocker... With Ron, Carolina should be solid at this position for the next three years... All-state performer at Bethel High... Won district and regional wrestling titles as a senior there and finished third in the state tournament... As a sophomore in high school he was on teams which won state championships in football, wrestling and track... Calls the Gator Bowl his top sports thrill... Athlete he most admires is teammate Billy Johnson... A good student who is undecided on a college major.

94



HARRY STANBACK
Defensive Tackle
6-5, 255, Senior
Rockingham, N.C.

Worked hard and ended the spring as the number one right tackle... Will be pushed by last year's starter, John Brugos, this fall, but has the ability to hold onto the job... Very quick for a man his size... Big and strong, but needs to be a little more physical... A smart player who doesn't make a lot of mistakes... Mentally toughter than in the past... Wants to be a great player... Very coachable... Always around the football... Good pass rusher... Saw considerable action last year in a backup role... Made some big plays in the N.C. State game... Had five tackles, three assists, one sack and a fumble recovery against the Wolfpack... Had six tackles and six assists against Clemson... Finished the year with 32 tackles and 32 assists... Had six tackles for losses, three of them quarterback sacks... Also played well in the Gator Bowl... Ran an intercepted pass 25 yards for a touchdown in the spring game... Shifted to tackle from outside linebacker in the fall of 1978... Saw considerable action there before suffering a knee injury... That injury kept him out of spring practice in 1979, but he came back to play well last season... Missed the 1977 season with a thumb injury after playing on the junior varsity in 1976... If he stays free of injuries, he's capable of having an all-star season... Played on some outstanding teams at Richmond County High... Also competed in basketball and track there... Enjoys playing pool and tennis... Majoring in recreation.

STEVE STREATER
Defensive Back
5-11, 168, Senior
Sylva, N.C.

Should contend for all-star honors as both a free safety and a punter... Pre-season All-ACC selection on team picked by league coaches... Smart and aggressive... Has a good grasp of the game... Has a knack for being around the football... Good worker who plays with a lot of enthusiasm... Has a super attitude... Will make the big play in the clutch... Doesn't have great size, but is a sure tackler... Good all-around athlete... Being counted on as one of the leaders on defense... Had an excellent junior season... Tied for the team lead with five interceptions, ranking third in the Atlantic Coast Conference... Picked off two passes against Wake Forest and one each against South Carolina, Cincinnati and N.C. State... Also broke up four other passes in the secondary... Had 24 tackles and 33 assists... Averaged 41.2 yards per punt last fall... Has a good hang time and that's one of the reasons Carolina was seventh nationally in net punting... Averaged 45.4 yards on six punts in the Gator Bowl, the best performance by a kicker in any bowl game... Virtually iced that 17-15 win over Michigan with a 51-yard punt in the last 35 seconds that backed the Wolverines up to their own six-yard line... Best day of the year was at Virginia with a 46.3 average... Kept Pittsburgh backed up all day in Carolina's win over the Panthers... Pitt began 12 drives after punts, only one of them outside its own 25... Longest punt of the year was a 60-yarder against South Carolina... Longest kick of his career was a 62-yarder against N.C. State in 1978... Set school single-game and single-season records by punting for 537 yards against Pitt and for 3,092 yards last fall... His 41.2 average was the best by a Tar Heel since Nick Vidnovic averaged 42.8 in 1971... Had a 40.7 average in 1978... Punted 43 yards on the first attempt of his career that year at Pittsburgh... Could be the premier punter in the ACC this fall... Played on all the specialty teams in 1978... Also saw considerable action that year in the secondary during the last half of the season... Had an interception against Virginia... Was a reserve at strong safety in 1977... Also played quarterback and defensive back on the jayvees that year... Was a relief pitcher on Carolina's 1978 baseball team... Skipped baseball last spring to concentrate on football and that should be an asset to him this fall... A great high school star at Sylva-Webster... Played safety and split end there... Also starred in baseball, basketball and track... National High School Baseball Player of the Year as a senior... Had a 22-1 record on the mound that year... Holds the all-time national high school record for wins in a career (61)... Ranks second to David Clyde in career high school strikeouts and single-season shutouts (12)... Pitched eight no-hitters there... His older brother, Jimmy, was the starting quarterback at Tennessee last year.

WALTER STURDIVANT
Fullback
5-10, 199, Senior
Hamlet, N.C.

Will be a factor on the football team... Good all-purpose back... Lined up at fullback, but capable of playing tailback as well... Has fine balance and quickness... Good option runner... Finds cracks in the defense and hits them... Hard to tackle... Very coachable... A heady player who understands the game... Executes his assignments well... Good blocker... Conscientious and a hard worker... A quality person... Gained 47 yards on 14 carries last fall... Returned seven kickoffs for a 14.6 average... Had finished third in the ACC and 39th in the nation in kickoff returns two years ago with a 22.1 average... Played on the jayvees as a freshman... Football, basketball and track star at Richmond County High... Played in the East-West Game... Likes music and poetry... Active in the Black Student Movement and residence hall government... Majoring in RTVMP.

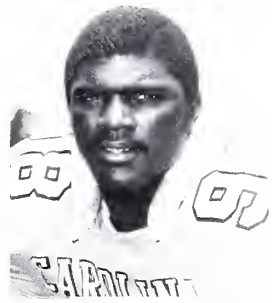
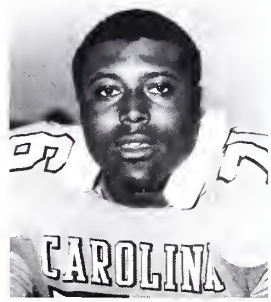
MARK SUGG
Offensive Tackle
6-4, 255, Senior
Greensboro, N.C.

A starter at right guard last season, Mark was shifted to left tackle this spring... Will start there this fall... Teams with Ron Wooten to give Carolina exceptional blocking on the left side of the line... A hard worker who has made steady progress throughout his career... A fine competitor... Coachable and has a good attitude... Has good initial quickness... Comes off the ball well... Tough and intense... Started 11 of 12 games at guard last season... Did an especially good job in the last three games of the regular-season and the Gator Bowl... Was a second-team guard as a sophomore after playing center as a freshman... A tackle at Greensboro Grimsley... Also competed in track and baseball there... Played in the Shrine Bowl and East-West Game... Majoring in industrial relations.



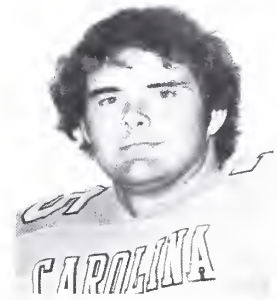
LAWRENCE TAYLOR
Outside Linebacker
6-3, 237, Senior
Williamsburg, Va.

All-America candidate in his senior season... Carolina coaches say there is no better outside linebacker (defensive end) in the country... Named by ACC coaches to their pre-season all-conference team... A big-play performer with explosive ability... Has everything it takes to be a great OLB—size, speed, strength, quickness and good instincts... A smart player who picks up things well... Hard worker and a brutal hitter... Will play to the open-side of the field in Carolina's defensive scheme... Actually has the tools to play anywhere in the front seven... One of the defensive stars in the Gator Bowl win over Michigan... Was all over the field that night... Had a fumble recovery and a sack... Was Carolina's fourth-leading tackler last year with 80 solo hits and 15 assists... Had 11 tackles for losses and tied for the team lead with five sacks... His jarring tackles caused seven fumbles... One of those fumbles set up a Tar Heel touchdown in a 35-21 victory at N.C. State... ACC Player of the Week after making nine tackles and assisting on two others at Virginia... Also caused a fumble in that game, intercepted a pass and made two tackles behind the line of scrimmage... Got better and better throughout the season... Counted on to be one of the defensive leaders this fall... Professional scouts rate him a can't-miss prospect... Had his fine junior season after an up-and-down sophomore year... Started at both inside linebacker and nose guard that year, but was bothered by nagging injuries... Moved back to outside linebacker, his natural position, in the spring of 1979... Had played there in a reserve role as a freshman... Football, basketball and baseball star at Lafayette High... Two-way end in football... All-state in football and baseball... Calls the Gator Bowl his greatest sports thrill... Athlete he most admires is Julius Erving... Majoring in industrial relations.



DONNELL THOMPSON
Defensive Tackle
6-5, 270, Senior
Lumberton, N.C.

Has the size, speed and strength to be one of the best linemen in college football... One of Carolina's top all-star candidates... Named to ACC coaches' pre-season all-conference team... A hard worker who has gotten better and better throughout his career and is still trying to improve... Always at his best in the big games... Was brilliant in the Gator Bowl with eight tackles, including two for losses... Matched against Pittsburgh's mammoth Mark May, he made six tackles and assisted on four others in a great performance... Had seven tackles, including a sack, and four assists against South Carolina... ACC Player of the Week after making 10 tackles (two sacks) and assisting on four others against Duke... Was the Tar Heels' fifth-leading tackler with 43 solos and 38 assists... Tied for the team lead with five sacks... Should be headed for his finest season... Had a good spring... Has matured immensely... Needs to get just a little tougher mentally... Needs to be just as intense when he's lined up against an average player as when he's facing an All-America... Started every game as a sophomore... Made one of the biggest plays of the year in a 24-22 win over South Carolina... It was his sack of quarterback Skip Ramsey on the Gamecocks' last drive that took South Carolina out of field goal range... Saw action in a reserve role as a freshman behind All-America Dee Hardison and All-ACC performer Rod Broadway... Played quite a bit in the Liberty Bowl that year after Broadway was injured... All-America football player at Lumberton High... Also played basketball there... Played in the Shrine Bowl... Athlete he most admires is Charles Waddell... Calls the Gator Bowl his biggest thrill in sports... Teammates call him Foots (he wears a size 16 shoe)... Majoring in recreation... Capable of being just as good as he wants to be on the football field.



MEL TRIMBLE
Offensive Tackle
6-5, 255, Sophomore
Sterling, Va.

Number two left tackle heading into the fall... Starter on the junior varsity last year... Should be a fine player here... Big and strong... Has good quickness... Works to improve every day... Has good work habits... Coachable... A determined individual... Fine competitor... All-state tackle at Parkview High.

The Last Time:

An opponent returned a fumble for a touchdown was in 1968 when Jack Whitley of N.C. State returned one 46 yards in Kenan Stadium.

Carolina was shut out was a 21-0 loss to Kentucky in the 1976 Peach Bowl.

WAYNE TUCKER
Wide Receiver
6-3, 197, Senior
Richmond, Va.

Developed into a premier wide receiver last year... Made great strides throughout the course of the fall... Then had a good spring although he missed the last two weeks with an injury... Now looms as an all-star candidate as Carolina's starting flanker... Fine all-around athlete... Has great speed, good size and quickness... Smooth, fluent runner... His great athletic ability makes him a game-breaking threat... Caught 16 passes last fall, four for touchdowns... His TDs were all important ones and his catches seemed to come in crucial situations... Caught a six-yard scoring pass seconds before the end of the first half at Army to put Carolina up 20-3 at intermission... Other touchdown receptions covered 43 and seven yards at N.C. State and 41 yards against East Carolina... Had three catches in the Gator Bowl, two of them in a 97-yard drive... Caught just six passes as a sophomore, but two of them were for scores against Maryland and Virginia... Sidelined in 1977 with a jaw infection... Had been the MVP in the 1977 spring game with touchdown catches of 47 and 43 yards... Had an outstanding freshman year at wingback in 1976... Caught eight passes, averaging 17.1 yards per reception... Had a 32-yard touchdown catch against N.C. State... Has also competed in track at Carolina, running the 440 and on relay teams... A late bloomer in football after playing the sport only one year at George Wythe High... Also starred in basketball, track and cross country there... Enjoys cooking, swimming and basketball... Athlete he most admires is teammate Billy Johnson... Says his biggest thrill in sports was running in the Millrose Games at Madison Square Garden... His major is industrial relations.

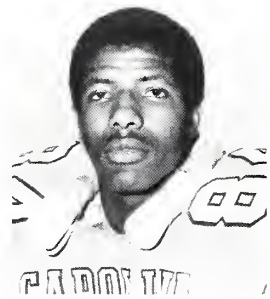
CHRIS WARD
Linebacker
5-11, 220, Sophomore
Cincinnati, Ohio

Will play behind Darrell Nicholson at the closed-side linebacker... Finished the spring as the number two man there... Played on special teams last year and saw some action at linebacker... Intense and a hard hitter... Had 16 tackles and eight assists last fall... Intercepted a pass in a jayvee game against Duke... Intelligent player... Has a good concept of the Carolina defense... Diagnoses plays well... Lack of experience is his biggest problem... Will contribute this fall... In addition to playing linebacker, he will also probably play on the special teams again... All-state and all-city at Cincinnati's Elder High School... As a senior, he played on a high school state championship baseball team... Hobbies are music and boxing... Plans to major in sociology.

ROCKY WHITE
Linebacker
6-0, 205, Junior
Charlotte, N.C.

Can play either of the two linebacker positions... Had a pretty good spring... A hitter who is improving all the time... He's working to get bigger... Has been at linebacker less than a year... Moved from quarterback to safety and then to linebacker early last season... Played on the special teams and did a good job... Should play there again this fall... A gutsy competitor... Jayvee quarterback in 1978... Had two great passing days that year... Completed 20 of 30 passes for 171 yards and three touchdowns against Fork Union... Threw four fourth quarter touchdown passes to spark a 39-26 come-from-behind win over Ferrum... His father was his coach at Olympic High... Played quarterback and safety there... Lettered three years in football, basketball and baseball... Played in the Shrine Bowl and the East-West All-Star Game... Majoring in elementary education... Would like to be a club golf pro.



MIKE WILCHER
Outside Linebacker
6-3, 218, Sophomore
Washington, D.C.

Excellent athlete... Has good size and great speed... Made good progress in the spring... Really came on late in the off-season drills... Number two on the depth chart behind Lawrence Taylor at outside linebacker... Lacks experience and needs to develop more strength... Good specialty team player last fall... All-metro performer at Eastern High... Played on city championship teams in 1977 and 1978... Also was an excellent basketball player there... Undecided on a college major.

LARRY WINTERS
Defensive Back
6-0, 198, Sophomore
LaPlata, Md.

Will open the season as one of the starting cornerbacks this fall... Started the final three regular-season games and the Gator Bowl last year... Could develop into a top-notch cornerback... A hard worker with good size and strength... Runs very well... Has good savvy... One of the top performers in the off-season conditioning program... Continued to improve in the spring... Still needs more consistency with some of the little things... Will probably handle punt returns this year... Used on punt and kickoff returns late last season... Intercepted passes last fall against Pittsburgh and Duke, the latter setting up a touchdown... Also picked off a pass in the Gator Bowl... Calls the Gator Bowl win over Michigan his top sports thrill... Outstanding player at LaPlata High and Fork Union Military Academy... Also starred in track... Says the athlete he most admires is his brother, Francis, who was a defensive back here in 1978... Plans to major in RTVMP.

RON WOOTEN
Offensive Guard
6-4, 260, Senior
Kinston, N.C.

Possibly the best offensive lineman in college football... Should be a strong contender for the Lombardi Award and the Outland Trophy... Made all the pre-season All-America checklists and was a Playboy first-team All-America... A superior blocker at left guard... Second-team All-America last year on the squad chosen by the Football News... Rated in the same class with former Tar Heel All-America guard Ken Huff, the third player chosen in the 1975 NFL draft... Already a better pass-blocker than Huff... Has everything it takes to be an All-America—strength, size, speed, quickness and intelligence... Explodes off the line of scrimmage... Has good body control... Greatest attribute, however, may be his consistency... Gives a super effort every Saturday... Regardless of the opponent or score, he's always giving 100 per cent... Doesn't stop until the whistle blows... A great clutch player... Works hard on and off the field... Practices to his potential... Comes to practice early and leaves late, trying to improve... Determined to be the best he can... Accepts coaching well... A great example for the other players... A team leader... Had never played offense until he got to Carolina, but has made rapid improvement in his three years here... Has simply gotten better and better every time he's played... Was absolutely awesome the last half of the 1979 season... Twice named ACC Player of the Week (East Carolina and Duke)... Graded out in every game... At Maryland the Tar Heels went for a first down four times in fourth-down situations... All four plays went directly behind Wooten and Carolina got the yardage each time... Was brilliant against Michigan in the Gator Bowl as Carolina gained 169 yards on the ground against a defense that was fourth nationally in rushing defense, giving up just 99 yards a game... Broke into the starting lineup against Miami as a sophomore and has started every game since then... Saw only limited action in a reserve role as a freshman... One of the most likeable players on the team... Was an All-America defensive tackle at Kinston High... Also wrestled there... Calls last year's 35-21 win over N.C. State his biggest thrill in sports.. Enjoys archery... Says the athlete he most admires is teammate Ron DeMarco... Member of the National Honor Society in high school... An excellent student... Majoring in chemistry... Wants to go to medical school... A student-athlete in the truest sense of the term.

Noting The Tar Heels

Carolina finished the 1979 season ranked 14th in the final United Press International poll and 15th in the last Associated Press poll. Carolina's 8-3-1 record was the best of any school in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Amos Lawrence goes into his senior season with more career rushing yardage (3,273) than any active player in the country. The only Atlantic Coast Conference players to ever gain more were Ted Brown of N.C. State (4,602), Mike Voight of Carolina (3,971) and James McDougald of Wake Forest (3,811).

Lawrence has gained over 1,000 yards in each of his first three seasons. The only major college player to have four 1,000-yard seasons is Tony Dorsett.

Amos had 1,211 yards as a freshman, gained 1,043 more as a sophomore and then added 1,019 last year. Getting 1,000 last year was a major accomplishment because Lawrence was slowed at mid-season by a pulled groin muscle. Although he did not miss a game, he was not at full speed for over a month and had a five-game period in which he gained only 164 yards. Carolina's record in those games was 1-3-1.

Lawrence finished the year averaging 92.6 yards per game. However, in games he started, his average was 127 yards.

Five Carolina football jersies—numbers 22, 46, 50, 59 and 99—have been retired over the years in honor of the men who wore them.

The number 22 was almost as well known as the athlete who wore it—Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice. One of college football's all-time superstars, Justice was an All-America halfback at Carolina from 1946 to 1949. In fact, those years generally are known as simply "The Justice Era" in Chapel Hill.

Carl Snavely, Justice's coach, was instrumental in getting number 46 retired. That belonged to Cotton Sutherland, an outstanding back who was killed in an automobile crash while a Carolina student.

Number 50 was Art Weiner, an All-America end in the late Forties. In 1949 Art caught a school-record 52 passes. He was also a great defensive player.

Another end, Andy Bershak, wore 59. A defensive standout, he was an All-America selection in 1939.

Carolina's first All-America, George Barclay had the number 99. He was a star guard and earned All-America honors in 1934.

Carolina's 4,108 yards in total offense last year was the third-highest total in Tar Heel history. The 1974 team set the all-time record with 4,691 yards and the 1970 team had 4,523.

The Tar Heels finished second in the ACC in total offense to Wake Forest. Carolina led the league in scoring, however, averaging 24.8 points per game.

Chancellor Christopher Fordham

The new chancellor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is Dr. Christopher C. Fordham III.

Fordham was appointed to the position last February by the University's Board of Governors on the recommendation of William Friday, president of the consolidated university system.

Fordham had been vice-chancellor for health affairs and professor of medicine and community medicine at Carolina since 1977. He is also former dean of the University's School of Medicine.

Fordham succeeded Ferebee Taylor as Chancellor. Taylor, who became chancellor in 1972, resigned effective January 31 following a heart attack last year.

"I have known Dr. Fordham for many years," said President Friday, in announcing the appointment. "He is a courageous, fair and aggressive leader who has abundantly demonstrated his love for the University. His perception of the nature and purpose of this noble institution is clear, and he will lead it to a greater fulfillment of its mission of good teaching, solid research and public service appropriate to and expected of the University at Chapel Hill."

Prominent nationally as an educator, Fordham in 1977 turned down the top health office in the nation, assistant secretary for health in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, to stay in Chapel Hill.

Since he joined the Carolina faculty 22 years ago Fordham has held a wide variety of prestigious positions at the University and on the national level. He is a former member of the executive council of the Association of American Medical Colleges and a past chairman of both the AAMC National Council of Deans and Southern Regional Deans.

A member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences, Fordham also is a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine, a Distinguished Service Member of the AAMC, a fellow of the American College of Physicians and a member of the medical honorary, Alpha Omega Alpha.

In administration for the past 15 years, Fordham has been exposed for the last three years to university-wide issues and problems such as admissions, budget and enrollment projections as a member of the chancellor's administrative council.

A native of Greensboro and a 1951 graduate of the Harvard Medical School, Fordham joined the Carolina School of Medicine faculty in 1958. In 1969 he left Chapel Hill to become vice-president for medicine and dean of the school of medicine at the Medical College of Georgia.

He returned to Chapel Hill in 1971 as professor of medicine and dean of the School of Medicine, a position he held until 1979.

The School of Medicine made substantial advances during Fordham's deanship. The school expanded its programs, strengthened its faculty and gained increasing national prominence for its excellence and creativity.

The humanitarian overtones of Fordham's health care and outreach programs in the University are well known to his colleagues. In his time as dean, the School of Medicine initiated a statewide regional education program (the Area Health Education Centers program) which has achieved wide recognition as an educational approach to improving the distribution of physicians and other health professional workers. He also has been associated with the growth and strengthening of many other programs within the health schools.

Fordham has a long background in undergraduate education at Carolina. He, his wife, their three daughters, his father and his grandfather all attended the University. He is a member of the Central Selection Committee of the John Motley Morehead Foundation which selects undergraduate Morehead scholars and is a member of the Order of the Golden Fleece.

Last year Fordham served as a Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow at Transylvania University in Kentucky. The purpose of these weeklong exercises, sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, is to bring together undergraduate students and accomplished personalities from a variety of backgrounds across America.

Fordham has contributed numerous articles to published literature ranging from scientific papers to editorials on health policy. He is the author of one book and is nearing completion of two more.

Fordham is married to the former Barbara Byrd of Greensboro. They have three daughters—Betsy Fordham Templeton of Nashville, Tenn., Pamela Fordham Richey of New Bern and Susan Fordham Crowell of Chapel Hill.

Athletic Director John Swofford

John Swofford, a former Tar Heel football player, is the new director of athletics at the University of North Carolina.

Swofford was named to the position last March by Chancellor Christopher Fordham and took over the job May 1. He succeeded Bill Cobey who had resigned to pursue public office.

Swofford has been a member of the Carolina athletic staff since May 1, 1976. He served two-and-a-half years as assistant athletic director and business manager and a year as assistant athletic director and assistant executive vice-president of the Educational Foundation before being named head of the department.

"John Swofford is a bright and energetic young administrator with an abundance of enthusiasm for Carolina athletics," said Chancellor Fordham, in announcing the appointment. "He brings imagination, talent and experience into a position that is very important to the University. I am confident that he will do well in this demanding new role."

Although intercollegiate athletics is faced with many problems, Swofford is looking forward to the challenges.

"I am obviously a very fortunate person and my feelings currently include a double dose of happiness and humbleness," he said after his appointment. "I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the University in this position.

"We have an outstanding coaching, administrative and clerical staff, and with their help, our primary goal will be to continue the tradition of integrity and excellence that has been the trademark of Carolina athletics. Our athletic program is part of a great university. It is a special place and we will strive to reflect her values and character.

"We will continue our commitment to a strong overall program and we will continually strive to operate on the principle that the student-athletes who are participants in our various sports are our greatest assets. We must be committed to their positive development as individuals while they are a part of our athletic program."

A native of North Wilkesboro, N.C., Swofford first came to Carolina as a Morehead Scholar in 1967. He graduated in 1971 with an A.B. in psychology and industrial relations.

He played quarterback and defensive back on Tar Heel football teams in 1969, 1970 and 1971. Those last two teams went to the Peach Bowl and the Gator Bowl. He tied a then-school record against Vanderbilt in 1969 by throwing three touchdown passes in one game.

Swofford was named to the Atlantic Coast Conference Academic Honor Roll and Who's Who in College Athletics. He also served as president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes on campus.

In 1973 he earned a M.Ed in athletic administration at Ohio University. In his time there Swofford served as a graduate assistant to the assistant business manager of athletics.

From 1973 to 1976 he was athletic ticket manager and assistant to the director of athletic facilities and finance at the University of Virginia. His duties in that job included directing all ticket sales, advertising and promotions. He also handled game contract settlements, stadium and coliseum operations and team travel arrangements.

Upon returning to Carolina as assistant athletic director and business manager, he handled all the athletic department's business affairs. Among his many other responsibilities were handling fund-raising affairs, team travel and the athletic dining hall. He also coordinated sports camps.

Although he remained assistant athletic director, Swofford dropped the business manager title and was named assistant executive vice-president of the Educational Foundation in January, 1979. In that job he was in charge of the overall financial structure of the athletic department. He also supervised the business, ticket and game operations departments as well as the scheduling for men's non-revenue sports. His position with the Educational Foundation involved general office procedures, membership services and fund-raising.

Swofford's choice as athletic director was hailed by members of the Carolina athletic staff.

"I'm delighted at the choice," said Football Coach Dick Crum at the time. "I've worked with John for the two years I've been here and I'm looking forward to being associated with him for a long time. He has everything involving athletics at an academically-oriented university in the proper perspective. That's what we need."

"John Swofford will be an excellent athletic director," said Basketball Coach Dean Smith. "I am glad the choice came from within the University as we have had good continuity through the years. John is the type of young man we need in intercollegiate athletics."

Only 31, Swofford is one of the youngest athletic directors in the country. However, his age didn't bother Chancellor Fordham and it doesn't bother Swofford either.

"I look on the positive side of most things," he says. "So I don't consider my age a problem. Now it's less a problem not only in athletics, but also in business. Job maturity is more important."

Swofford is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Athletic Directors and is on the board of directors of the Ohio University Athletic Administration Program. He was a divisional vice-chairman of the Carolina Challenge, a fund-raising effort by former chancellor Ferebee Taylor. He is a member of the East Chapel Hill Rotary Club.

A regular jogger, Swofford also enjoys reading and tennis. He is married to the former Becky Owens of North Wilkesboro. They have two children, Autumn and Chad.

Head Coach Dick Crum

The head football coach at the University of North Carolina is Dick Crum, a man with one of the best records in the college game.

Crum, beginning his third year as the Tar Heel coach, goes into the 1980 season with a career record of 47-19-2. That's a winning percentage of .706 and is the 12th best of any active coach who has been on the major college level at least five years. He has the best winning percentage in the Atlantic Coast Conference and is topped in the South by only Bear Bryant and Bobby Bowden.

Last fall Crum's team posted an 8-3-1 record, the best mark in the ACC. Carolina finished 14th in the final United Press International coaches' poll and 15th in the last Associated Press poll. Included in those eight victories was a 17-15 win over Michigan in the Gator Bowl.

Bowl victories are certainly nothing new to Crum, however. In fact, he has a perfect 3-0 record in bowl competition.

But, that's to be expected. Over the years Crum's teams have a history of being well prepared and ready to play in the really big games. At Miami of Ohio he guided the Redskins to numerous victories over more highly-regarded opponents. Last year Carolina was the only team to defeat Pittsburgh, whipped an outstanding South Carolina team and pounded arch-rivals Duke and N.C. State.

Still, Crum was not completely satisfied.

"We should have had a better record," he says. "We lost a couple of games at mid-season that we should have won simply because we did not play with the same intensity we had displayed earlier in the year."

That reaction is typical of Dick Crum. He's never satisfied and never wants his players to be satisfied. Yes, they should be happy with their accomplishments, but they should never want to rest on what has been done in the past. He wants them looking ahead and constantly trying to improve.

Crum, 46, became the Carolina football coach in January, 1978. He replaced Bill Dooley who had resigned to become athletic director and head football coach at Virginia Tech. Prior to coming to Chapel Hill, Crum had been the head coach at Miami University for four seasons, posting a 34-10-1 record.

In announcing the selection of Crum as Dooley's replacement, Carolina Chancellor Ferebee Taylor said, "Dick Crum was the unanimous choice of our nominating committee to be the new football coach.

"Coach Crum's outstanding record at Miami University speaks for itself and we are confident that, under his leadership, our football program will continue to maintain Carolina's high standards of excellence."

It has done just that. Crum got off to a rough start as his first Tar Heel team suffered a disappointing 5-6 season in 1978. The problem of players adjusting to a new coaching staff and an assortment of injuries were the major reasons for that losing mark. However, he quickly brought Carolina back to national prominence last year.

Dick and Shirley Crum

He did it with a solid kicking game, a tough defense and a wide-open offense. Carolina's 4,108 yards in total offense last year was the third-highest total in school history. Crum had a 1,000-yard rusher in Amos Lawrence and his quarterback, Matt Kupec, broke virtually every school passing record. Carolina led the ACC in scoring.

Ironically, Crum is best known for his defensive philosophies. And he still says defense will be the key to Carolina's football success.

"I think you win championships with good defensive teams," he says. "Fundamentals are also so important in football. If you play fundamental and sound football and don't make mistakes, you're going to win a lot of games."

Crum certainly plans to win a lot of games at Carolina. Those who have gotten to know him in his short time here have no doubt about that.

"Given a little time, Coach Crum is going to have one of the best programs in the country here," says one of his former players. "The thing I like about him is he's a player's coach. The players come first to him. He's really interested in doing anything he can for us, whether it relates to football or not."

Former Tar Heel All-America Don McCauley, now a member of the Baltimore Colts, agrees.

"The first time I met Dick Crum, I liked him," says McCauley. "It was very easy to talk to him. I think he's the kind of guy the players here are going to like because his main concern seems to be their futures."

One reason for Crum's good rapport with his young players may be his 12 years of experience as a high school coach. He considers those years great preparation for his college coaching career.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Crum attended Boardman High School and then enrolled at Muskingum College. He later transferred to Mount Union College where he received his B.S. degree in 1957, majoring in mathematics with a minor in physics. He also holds an M.Sc. from Western Reserve.

In football, Crum was a non-scholarship halfback. He saw most of his action with the B team and it was there he learned of the great importance of fundamentals.

The first six years of his coaching career were spent as an assistant at Boardman High, Sandusky High and Warren Harding High, all in Ohio.

Crum accepted his first head coaching position in 1963 at Mentor High School in Mentor, Ohio. He compiled a six-year record of 50-9-1, winning three league championships. His record in his last four seasons there was 38-2.

He joined Bill Mallory's Miami staff as defensive backfield coach in 1969.

He was appointed defensive coordinator in 1970 and held that position for four years. While he was defensive coordinator his teams ranked third, fifth, sixth and first in the nation in total defense. The Redskins also topped the nation in rushing defense in 1973.

When Mallory left Miami to become head coach at Colorado after the 1973 season, Crum was named his successor. He won three Mid-American Conference championships in four years there and twice took teams to the Tangerine Bowl. The Redskins defeated Georgia, 21-10, in 1974 and South Carolina, 20-7, in 1975 in those post-season appearances.

Crum's Miami teams had records of 10-0-1 in 1974, 11-1 in 1975, 3-8 in 1976 and 10-1 in 1977.

In his only losing season at Miami, the Redskins lost nine of their 11 starting defensive players in their first two games. After an 0-6 start, however, Crum rallied his team to three wins in its final five games. The Redskins then capped that comeback by going 10-1 in 1977, coming from behind eight times to win.

Miami is known as the "cradle of coaches." Other former coaches at the Oxford school include Woody Hayes, Ara Parseghian, John Pont, Bo Schembechler and Mallory.

Like all those men Crum was extremely successful at Miami. He was selected Ohio Coach of the Year in 1974 and 1975, MAC Coach of the Year in 1974 and District Five Coach of the Year in 1974 and 1977. His 1974 squad finished the season ranked 10th in the wire service polls, the highest rating of any team in MAC history.

Twice Crum was selected to serve as head coach in the Ohio Shrine Bowl Game. He has also been on coaching staffs in the All-America Bowl and the Coaches' All-America Game. He has served on several committees of the American Football Coaches Association.

While at Miami, Crum had been considered for other head coaching jobs. However, he had always asked that his name be withdrawn from consideration.

"I had been interviewed at other schools," he says, "but I always left those meetings with very mixed feelings and emotions. After I interviewed at Carolina, I had no such qualms. On the plane ride back to Ohio I told my wife, 'If they offer me the job, I'm going to accept.'

"The thing that influenced me more than anything else is the fact Carolina is an excellent academic institution as well as a home of great athletics."

In his spare time Crum enjoys fishing and the outdoors in general. Each summer his family takes a two-to-four week fishing trip to Canada. Their vacation spot is in an area just north of North Bay.

Crum also has a great interest in flying. He obtained his pilot's license during the past summer.

Dick is married to the former Shirley Moncur of Delaware, Ohio. She is an Ohio University graduate with degrees in physical education and library science. They have three sons—Mike, 17, and twins, Jeff and Joel, 15.

Assistant Coaches

Cleve Bryant (Quarterbacks)

Cleve Bryant, a star quarterback in his playing days, heads into his third season as coach of the Carolina quarterbacks.

A 1970 graduate of Ohio University, Bryant guided the Bobcats to back-to-back Mid-American Conference championships in 1967 and 1968. He was selected the MAC's Offensive Player of the Year in 1968.

After graduation, Bryant was drafted by the Denver Broncos of the National Football League. He then spent five years in business before joining Dick Crum's Miami staff in 1977. He came to Carolina with Crum for the 1978 season. Under his guidance, Matt Kupec broke every school single-season passing record last fall and became the first Tar Heel player to lead the Atlantic Coast Conference in passing.

A native of Canton, Ohio, Bryant was inducted into the Ohio University Athletic Hall of Fame in 1975.

Bryant and his wife, Jean, have two sons—Rodney and Kyle.

Mel Foels (Outside Linebackers)

The newest member of the Carolina coaching staff is Mel Foels who will work with the outside linebackers.

Foels, a native of Toledo, Ohio, is a graduate of Bowling Green where he was an all-conference guard in 1964. An honorable mention academic All-America, Foels received his B.S. in biology and physical education in 1965 and earned his master's in physical education from Bowling Green in 1966.

He was head football and wrestling coach at Iowa Wesleyan from 1966 to 1973 and was three times named conference coach of the year. He served as an assistant coach at Iowa in 1973 and at Eastern Kentucky from 1974 to 1976 before joining the Tulsa staff in 1977.

Foels coached the Golden Hurricanes' linebackers for three years. In addition, he was Tulsa's defensive coordinator last fall.

Mel and his wife, Dawn, have two daughters, Tracie Lyn and Michelle Denise.

Jack Himebauch (Receivers)

Jack Himebauch will again coach Carolina's receivers this season.

A native of Rocky River, Ohio, Himebauch was a star receiver in his own playing days at Miami University. He earned three letters as a tight end there under John Pont and Bo Schembechler. He led the Redskins in receptions in both 1963 and 1964. Himebauch had a career total of 43 catches for 614 yards and six touchdowns.

After graduating in 1965, Himebauch was an assistant coach for Dick Crum at Mentor High School for four years. He then spent six years as head football coach at Darien High School in Connecticut.

Himebauch was an assistant coach at Fordham University in 1976 before returning to Miami in 1977. He coached the tight ends and offensive tackles for the Redskins. He worked with the defensive line the following year at Carolina before shifting back to the offense last season.

Himebauch also directs Crum's summer football camp for youngsters.

Jack and his wife, Cheryl, have three sons—Chris, Curt and Jonathan.

Denny Marcin (Defensive Coordinator and Linebackers)

The man who coordinates the Carolina defense is Denny Marcin.

In addition to running the entire defense, Marcin also works specifically with the Tar Heel linebackers.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Marcin was a two-way guard at Miami University. He received all-conference honorable mention his senior year.

After graduating in 1964, he served as an assistant football coach at Lakewood St. Edward High School for eight years. He then was head coach there for two seasons and had an overall record of 17-2-1. He also was baseball coach for eight years.

Marcin returned to Miami in 1974 to coach the offensive guards and centers. He was named the Redskins' defensive coordinator in 1977 and he assumed that same position when he joined Dick Crum at Carolina two years ago.

In addition to football, Marcin also enjoys wrestling and has officiated on the high school, college and professional level.

He and his wife, Betsy, have four children—Jeff, Denny, Melinda and Susie.

Assistant Coaches

Larry Marmie (Defensive Backs)

Coaching the Carolina secondary is Larry Marmie, now in his second year on the Tar Heel staff.

A native of Barnesville, Ohio, Marmie has 12 years of college coaching experience. He came to Carolina in March, 1979 from the University of Tulsa where he had been defensive coordinator for two seasons.

Tulsa, which had gone 3-8 in 1977, improved its record to 9-2 in 1978 and Marmie's defense was a big reason for that. Two of his players were second-team Associated Press All-Americas.

In his own playing days Marmie was a quarterback at Eastern Kentucky from 1962 to 1965. As a senior he was a squad co-captain and also the team's most valuable player.

He began his coaching career in 1966 as head coach at Berea High School in Kentucky. He spent two seasons there. He was then an assistant coach at Morehead State for three seasons and an assistant at Eastern Kentucky for four years before joining the Tulsa staff.

Marmie and his wife Linda have three children—Vicki, Cozy and Larry, Jr.

John Matsko (Offensive Coordinator and Offensive Line)

Coordinating the Carolina offense is John Matsko, one of the best young coaches in college football.

A native of Mentor, Ohio, Matsko played for Dick Crum in high school. He attended Kent State and was a starting fullback for the Golden Flashes in 1972. That was the year Kent State won the Mid-American Conference championship and went to the Tangerine Bowl. He then coached there for one year as a student assistant under Don James, now head coach at Washington.

Matsko then spent two seasons as a graduate assistant under Crum at Miami University. He coached at Danbury High for one year, compiling a 6-3 record and winning the Mid-Ohio Conference championship before returning to Miami in 1977.

In addition to being offensive coordinator, Matsko will also coach the Tar Heel offensive line.

John and his wife, Kim, have two daughters, Marie and Elizabeth, and a son, John.

Chuck Priefer (Defensive Line)

Chuck Priefer is beginning his second season as coach of the Tar Heel defensive tackles and nose guards.

A 1963 graduate of John Carroll University, Priefer coached the defensive secondary in 1978, his first season in Chapel Hill. He was moved to the defensive front when Larry Marmie joined the staff after the 1978 season. Priefer had coached the defensive line at Miami University in 1977 when the Redskins were 10-1.

Priefer, a native of Parma, Ohio, started his coaching career as an assistant in football, basketball and baseball at Padua Franciscan High School in 1963. He became head baseball coach in 1965 and assistant athletic director in 1966. His eight-year baseball record was 151-59.

He served as head football coach from 1972 to 1976, compiling a 34-15 record. He then joined Dick Crum's staff at Miami.

Priefer enjoys good movies, tennis and poker.

He and his wife, Sheila, have four children—Mike, Teri, Jenny and Megan.

Randy Walker (Offensive Backs)

Success has followed Randy Walker throughout his football career—as both a player and a coach.

A 1976 Miami graduate, Walker played on Redskin teams which compiled a 32-1-1 record. His teams won three straight Mid-American Conference championships and three consecutive Tangerine Bowl titles.

He finished his playing career as the sixth-leading rusher in Miami history with 1,757 yards. He was selected the team's most valuable player in his senior year after playing tailback, fullback and wingback at different times during the season.

A native of Troy, Ohio, Walker was drafted by the Cincinnati Bengals after graduation. He worked at Miami as a graduate assistant in 1976 and became a full-time staff member in 1977 as the Redskins went 10-1. He joined Dick Crum at Carolina in January, 1978.

Walker and his wife, Tammy, have a special interest in music. They have a baby daughter, Abby.

Charlie Carr (Assistant to the Athletic Director-Recruiting)

Charlie Carr, who has 10 years of coaching experience behind him, is an assistant to Athletic Director John Swofford for recruiting.

Carr coordinates all of Carolina's football recruiting and is also available to assist coaches in other sports if needed. However, the great majority of his time is spent on football.

A native of Virginia Beach, Va., Carr was a three-sport star at Princess Anne High School. He then came to Carolina where he excelled in football and baseball.

Carr was a star end on Tar Heel football teams in 1965, 1966 and 1967. He set a school and Atlantic Coast Conference record in 1966 by catching 16 passes in one game against the Air Force Academy. He had 52 receptions that year, tying the school single-season record.

In his senior year Carr led the ACC in batting with a .398 average. He was an all-conference selection as an outfielder.

After graduation, Carr spent two years at Carolina as a graduate assistant and five years as a full-time staff member. He then was offensive line coach for two years at Rice University. He returned to Chapel Hill in 1978 to coach the Tar Heel offensive tackles and tight ends and was named recruiting coordinator last year. He received his new title in July.

Charlie is married to the former Dee Harrington of Lumberton, N.C.

Paul Hoolahan (Assist. to the Athletic Director-Academics, Fitness)

As assistant to the athletic director for academics and fitness, Paul Hoolahan oversees the physical and academic development of all Tar Heel athletes.

Hoolahan's major responsibilities are coordinating an academic counseling service for student-athletes and supervising the football team's strength development program.

Paul was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference tackle here in 1970. He led an offensive line that took Carolina to the Peach Bowl and helped Don McCauley set an NCAA single-season rushing record.

An outstanding student, Hoolahan received a B.A. in English at Carolina and his M.A. in psychology from Columbia University.

Before returning to Chapel Hill in 1976, Hoolahan had been working as the supervisor of the Aquatics Division of Nassau County Recreation and Parks on Long Island. Simultaneously, he had served as a football coach and director of physical development at St. Frances Preparatory School.

Earlier this year Hoolahan was named executive director of the National Strength Coaches Association. Paul is a bachelor.

Charles Waddell (Athletic Fitness Director)

Charles Waddell, one of Carolina's greatest all-around athletes, will be athletic fitness director at the University this year.

Last year, Waddell's first on the Tar Heel staff, he assisted Paul Hoolahan with the Carolina fitness program and the school's academic counseling service. Although he has a new title, he will still have many of those same duties.

A 1975 Carolina graduate, Waddell lettered in three sports—football, basketball and track—during his playing days. He had his greatest success on the football field where he was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection as a tight end in 1973 and an All-America in 1974. He still holds the school record of three touchdown catches in a single game.

Following graduation he was selected by the San Diego Chargers in the NFL draft. He went to Seattle in the 1976 expansion draft and then spent two seasons at Tampa Bay. His playing career was cut short by a knee injury.

Charles is a native of Southern Pines, N.C. He and his wife, Sandra, have a daughter, Christa.

John Lacey (Head Trainer)

John Lacey, one of the most honored men in his field, heads an outstanding staff of athletic trainers at Carolina.

Lacey, beginning his 25th year in Chapel Hill, devotes all his attention to the Tar Heel football team. He has worked with 11 bowl teams, eight of them at Carolina.

One of his greatest honors came in 1972 when he was named head trainer for the United States delegation to the Olympic Games in Munich. He had served as trainer for the U.S. basketball team in the 1964 Games at Tokyo.

In 1977 he was named to the athletic trainers' section of the Citizens Savings (Helms) Hall of Fame.

A native of Wallingford, Conn., Lacey studied at the Yale University Department of Physical Therapy and at the Tilton School in Tilton, N.H. He came to Carolina from Maryland when the late Jim Tatum was named head football coach here in 1956. While at Maryland, he had served teams which won national championships in football and lacrosse.

He was also trainer of the 1957 Carolina basketball team which won the NCAA title. His background includes stints with three professional football teams—the Chicago Rockets, New York Yankees and Baltimore Colts.

Lacey is married to the former Barbara Koch of Wallingford.

Rick Brewer (Sports Information Director)

Rick Brewer is beginning his 13th year in the Carolina Sports Information Office and his sixth as its director.

A native of Winston-Salem, N.C., Brewer is a 1971 Carolina graduate with a B.A. in journalism.

He served as a student assistant in the sports information office for three years and was named the school's first assistant SID upon graduation. He held that position for four years and then was named sports information director in 1975.

In his five years as SID, Brewer has won awards from CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America) for his football brochure, football game program, basketball brochure, basketball game programs, tennis brochure, golf brochure and a recruiting brochure for women.

He is a member of CoSIDA, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association, the Football Writers Association of America and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association. He is a member of the ACSWA's executive committee.

Brewer is a bachelor.

Dave Lohse (Assistant Sports Information Director)

The assistant sports information director at Carolina is Dave Lohse, who is heading into his second year on the job.

Lohse is a 1977 graduate of Purdue University where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He worked in the Boilermaker Sports Information Office for three years as a student assistant.

Lohse then spent two years as a graduate assistant in the Carolina Sports Information Office before being named assistant SID in August, 1979. Although his major responsibilities at Carolina involve non-revenue sports, Dave also assists with the publicizing of Carolina's football team.

A native of Griffith, Ind., Lohse is a member of CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America), the Football Writers Association of America, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association.

Lohse is a bachelor.

The University

"The Southern Part of Heaven."

The late artist William Meade Prince described Chapel Hill and the University of North Carolina that way several years ago.

Like many things in this small, yet cosmopolitan village, the magic, romance and beauty that fascinated Prince remain unchanged today.

Time Magazine has called Chapel Hill "one of the 20 most enjoyable places to live in the United States."

The school itself is the oldest state university in the nation, first admitting students in 1795 while George Washington was President. However, it was not until after Reconstruction that Carolina began making the rapid progress that has lifted it to the top of southern education.

There are currently 14 schools at Carolina and more than 70 departments and other academic-affiliated divisions and institutes.

Strong in both the humanities and the sciences, the University also has a School of Business Administration of special potency, commensurate with the growing industrial might of the mid-South.

Carolina is one of six universities in the nation with a full range of health professional schools, including medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, nursing and public health. The center of this Division of Health Affairs is North Carolina Memorial Hospital.

Carolina is one of the largest and top-ranking universities in the nation. A recent rating of graduate schools by the American Council on Education put 12 UNC graduate departments in the highest category and 12 in the second highest. This made Carolina the leader of all universities, public or private, in the Southeast.

Alan Carter of the ACE describes Carolina as "the leading southern university, a liberal voice in the region."

In annual choices made by southern graduate scholars in the Rockefeller grants, more select graduate study at Chapel Hill than any other place.

The University is continuing to grow as it strives to keep pace with the changing world of today. Growth has been especially tremendous in the last 20 years. Those two decades have seen the establishment of the School of Journalism, the School of Business Administration, the Carolina Population Center, the WUNC-TV educational television station, the Ackland Art Center and a new computer system.

In that same time buildings have multiplied; student enrollment has reached nearly 20,000; the faculty has grown to over 1,200; new courses have been added to the curriculum and old ones revised; adult education courses have expanded; and scholarship and development programs have grown.

Here are some other facts of interest about one of America's great universities.

— Carolina's Morehead Planetarium was the first planetarium on a university campus in the world. It features special programs and exhibits and is a training base for U.S. astronauts. The unique Planetarium Sundial allows one to determine the correct time anywhere in the world.

OLD WELL

— James K. Polk, an 1818 graduate, became the 11th President of the United States.

— The Institute of Government on campus is a training center for city, county and state officials and employees. It is also involved in research and consultations for state and local governments.

— The University's television network feeds programs into North Carolina public schools.

— In a traditional program of student self-government, undergraduates have their own legislature, system of honor courts and student publications. These include a daily newspaper, "The Daily Tar Heel."

But perhaps the most outstanding feature of the University is the gentle way the new has been blended with the old to form one of the most beautiful campuses in the world.

Ivy-covered buildings and tree-lined walkways surround spacious, grassy greens where students lounge between classes. Tall pines cover south campus where modern buildings are under construction.

In direct contrast are Gerard Hall, built in 1837, and Old East, the oldest state university building in the nation. The cornerstone to Old East was laid in 1793 and the dorm was dedicated as a national shrine in 1966.

Other famous and beautiful spots around campus are the Old Well, the Davie Poplar, the Carolina Inn, the botanical gardens and Gimghoul Castle.

Despite the change and growth, the basic beauty of this area remains the same. It still truly is "the Southern Part of Heaven."

1979 Gator Bowl

North Carolina drove 97 yards in the third quarter for the go-ahead touchdown and then made the big plays defensively to defeat Michigan, 17-15, in the 1979 Gator Bowl.

A crowd of 70,407 in Jacksonville and a national television audience saw quarterback Matt Kupec direct the 16-play, 97-yard drive against one of the best defenses in college football. Kupec completed six of seven passes in the drive, including a 12-yarder to Phil Farris for the score. Jeff Hayes' PAT gave Carolina a 14-9 lead.

Michigan tried to strike back, but an opportunistic Tar Heel defense forced four turnovers in the Wolverines' next five possessions. Larry Winters and Darrell Nicholson had interceptions and Paul Davis and Lawrence Taylor recovered fumbles in that stretch.

Meanwhile, Carolina added a 32-yard field goal by Hayes to increase its lead to 17-9. That field goal was set up when Davis downed a Steve Streater punt on the Michigan one-yard line. The Wolverines could advance only two yards in three plays and had to punt, giving the Tar Heels excellent field position. Carolina made one first down and then Hayes booted his field goal.

Michigan came back with a touchdown with just 1:28 to play on a 30-yard pass from B.J. Dickey to Anthony Carter. However, a two-point pass fell incomplete.

The Wolverines tried an onsides kick, but it failed to go the necessary 10 yards and the Tar Heels got possession. Streater, who had a great night kicking, then sealed the win by pushing the Wolverines deep into their own territory with a 51-yard punt.

Michigan led 9-0 midway in the second period, but Carolina dominated play the rest of the way. The Wolverine scores came on a 20-yard field goal by Bryan Virgil and a 53-yard pass from John Wangler to Carter.

Carolina cut that lead to 9-7 with 4:46 remaining in the first half by driving 58 yards in eight plays. The big play in the drive was a 17-yard pass from Kupec to Jeff Grey in a third-and-eight situation. That put the ball on the Michigan one-yard line and Doug Paschal scored from there. Hayes' PAT was good.

Kupec and tailback Amos Lawrence were voted co-most valuable players in the game. Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes for 161 yards. Lawrence ran for 118 yards on 23 carries and caught five passes for 38 yards.

The Tar Heel defensive standouts were Taylor, tackle Donnell Thompson and linebacker Buddy Curry.

The Outlook

A solid offensive backfield and 11 returning starters on defense should make Furman an improved football team in 1980. The Paladins have two fine tailbacks in Mike Glenn and Brothel Cole, the team's top two rushers last season. Quarterback Tim Sorrells and fullback Steve Bishop are also capable performers. The problem on offense is in the interior line where just one starter is back. The defense will be experienced with every starter returning. The front five, led by tackle Kevin Morgan, could be Furman's strongest area.

The Outlook

A strong defense should help Texas Tech improve on last year's 3-6-2 record. The Red Raiders return six starters on both offense and defense, but it is the defense which appears to have the most promise. The returnees include all-star candidate Ted Watts at free safety and massive nose guard Gabriel Rivera. Quarterback Ron Reeves is back on offense, but a replacement must be found for fullback James Hadnot, one of the top runners in SWC history. If the young offense can gain some confidence early, Tech could challenge for a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

The Outlook

Maryland has the potential to be one of the best teams in college football. The Terps had one of the top defenses in the nation last year and only two starters are missing from that unit. In addition, defensive back Lloyd Burruss and defensive guard Marlin Van Horn, who missed last season with injuries, are healthy again. The major problem spot is the offensive line where all of last year's starters are gone. However, tailback Charlie Wysocki and place-kicker Dale Castro give the Terps the ability to score from anywhere on the field.

The Outlook

New Coach Bill Curry will have a young football team at Georgia Tech this fall. That's especially true on offense where six sophomores are expected to start. Junior Mike Kelley is back for his third year as the starting quarterback. Also returning are his top three receivers from last year and Tech's leading rusher, Ronny Cone. Guard Ben Utt is the only non-sophomore in the offensive line. Key figures on defense will be end Rick Olive, cornerback Ken Taylor and linebacker Lance Skelton. If the Jackets can avoid major injuries, they should make good improvement as the season progresses.

The Outlook

With 34 lettermen and 15 starters back from last year's 8-4 team, Wake Forest should be strong again this fall. Heading the list of returning players for the Deacons are All-ACC quarterback Jay Venuto and All-ACC wide receiver Wayne Baumgardner. However, replacements must be found for tailback James McDougald and fullback Albert Kirby. If some young players come through there, the Deacs will again be explosive. The defense, led by linebacker Carlos Bradley, has fine potential.

The Outlook

North Carolina State will have a talented, but inexperienced football team in 1980. The Wolfpack returns just nine starters from last year's 7-4 team. Offensively, State has the potential to be explosive with big-play performers like running back Dwight Sullivan and receivers Mike Quick and Lin Dawson. A key will be the play of sophomore quarterback Tol Avery. The strong point of the defense should be a deep secondary. There are good front-line players at the other positions, but depth is a problem.

East Carolina could have the best running combination in the state in halfback Anthony Collins and fullback Theodore Sutton. The two have run for 3,868 yards and scored 27 touchdowns. Gone, however, are record-setting quarterback Leander Green and all of the offensive line with the exception of guard Wayne Inman. The defense will be quick and aggressive. If sophomore quarterback Carlton Nelson and a young offensive line develop as expected, the Pirates will be an exceptional football team.

The Outlook

Oklahoma will again be one of the best teams in college football this fall. Although Billy Sims is gone, the Sooners return nine starters on offense and will be as explosive as usual. Halfback David Overstreet and quarterback J.C. Watts will key the offense. Only three starters are back on defense, but there is excellent talent available. Tackle Keith Gary, the Big Eight newcomer of the year on defense in 1979, heads up that unit. In fact, the defensive interior may be the best in the country. If young players come through at defensive end and linebacker, the Sooners will be in the running for the national championship once again.

The Outlook

Danny Ford enters his second season concerned about his offense. The middle of his offensive line (the center and both guards) are gone as are quarterback Billy Lott, fullback Marvin Sims and tailback Lester Brown. Clemson does return tackles Gary Brown and Lee Nanney and wide receivers Perry Tuttle and Jerry Gaillard. Defense doesn't appear to be that thin with seven starters back, including All-ACC tackle Steve Durham. The Tigers should be strongest in the secondary where nine lettermen (three starters) are available.

The Outlook

The Cavaliers should be better at nearly every position this fall than they were in 1979. Running backs Tommy Vigorito and Greg Taylor return after combining for almost 2,000 yards last season. Taylor, however, has been moved to wide receiver as Virginia has switched from the veer to the I on offense. Quarterback Todd Kirtley will direct the attack and will operate behind what Coach Dick Bestwick calls the best interior line in the league. An experienced defense is led by tackle Stuart Anderson.

The Outlook

Coach Red Wilson is cautiously optimistic about the 1980 season. The Blue Devils will rely on a newly-installed multiple-set offense and a young, but maturing, defense. The offense will be centered around the talents of an excellent receiving corp, headed by Ron Frederick and Cedric Jones. Defensively, Duke returns six of its starting front seven from a year ago. Nose guard Dan Yellott and tackles F.A. Martin and Paul Heinsohn are expected to anchor that unit.

The Educational Foundation

One of the most important organizations in the Carolina Athletic Department is the University's Educational Foundation.

It is the Educational Foundation which makes possible all athletic scholarships awarded by Carolina.

As the Tar Heel sports program has grown through the years, the Foundation has done likewise. It is the enthusiasm and generosity of Foundation members which allows Carolina to field its excellent athletic teams.

"Interest reaches a new peak each year," says Ernie Williamson, the Foundation's executive vice-president. "There are many reasons for this, but the most important has been our great success in all sports the last few years."

The Educational Foundation currently has over 3,600 members who finance a scholarship program that costs over $1,000,000 a year.

"Since its inaugeration in 1938, the Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, for over 2,500 student-athletes," says Williamson.

Williamson has always contended that a donation to the Foundation is not specifically a donation to athletics. He says the high caliber young athlete who is awarded a scholarship is a great representative of the University.

Williamson feels the overall bonus of being a Foundation member is in helping a worthy young student obtain a college education. Athletics come second.

Any donation to the Foundation is welcome. However, membership in the Rams Rlub is restricted to those who contribute $100 or more.

Carolina was one of the first schools in the nation to set up an endowment program for athletics. This program was started in 1968 and has been quite successful.

"We have life members of $10,000 and $25,000, endowed scholarships of $50,000 and have just recently enlisted 100 members who have purchased $50,000 scholarships through life insurance," says Williamson. "Several members also have indicated they have included the Foundation in their wills and bequests to enable continued success in the future."

A special room on the south wing of Kenan Fieldhouse serves as a meeting place for Rams and their families. This area is open two hours before football games and provides a lounge and picnic area for those who come early.

"A Foundation membership is a badge of prestige and loyalty to the University," points out Williamson. "Some of our finest members did not attend Carolina, however. They simply heard about our program and felt it was worthy."

The Foundation operates on a dignified and realistic plane in compliance with all of the regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Atlantic Coast Conference.

It has the blessing and good will of all the University administration and, in its unique field, occupies a status similar to that of the Business Foundation, the Medical Foundation and other money-raising organizations working for the benefit of the University.

Ernie Williamson

The man who stands at the helm of the Educational Foundation is popular and capable Ernie Williamson, the executive vice-president.

The former star Carolina tackle is one of the most active individuals on the Tar Heel sports scene. He is constantly on the go — talking with Foundation members, speaking to prospective members or avidly following all of Carolina's athletic teams.

Williamson is a Carolina graduate with A.B. and M.A. degrees. The native of Crewe, Va., played one season of football here under Carl Snavely and was regarded as an outstanding tackle.

He was lured away to professional football and played with New York and Washington before a knee injury ended his career.

Williamson returned to Chapel Hill to finish work on his degrees and then went to the Univesity of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. He was an assistant coach there for two years and head coach for three seasons.

He returned to Carolina in 1957 to accept his present position. At one time he also served as a recruiter for the football program.

He is married to the former Elva Smith of Lawrenceville, Va. They have a son, Wayne, and a daughter, Carole.

James Betterson
1,082 yards in 1974

Don McCauley
1,092 yards in 1969
1,720 yards in 1970

Carolina has had eight 1,000-yard rushers in the past seven years. That's the most of any school in the country in that period.

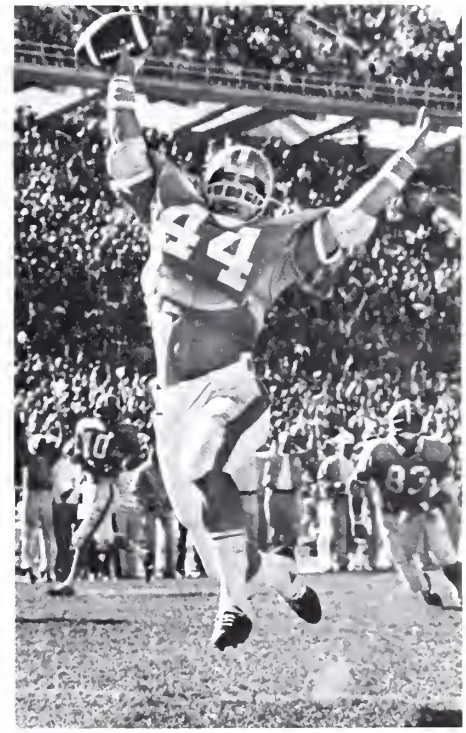
Sammy Johnson reached the magic figure in 1973, Mike Voight and James Betterson in 1974, Voight again in 1975 and 1976 and Amos Lawrence for the last three seasons.

Carolina had had ten 1,000-yard rushers in its football history. The only schools which have had more are Southern California with 12 and Oklahoma with 11.

When Betterson and Voight each ran for 1,000 in 1974, it marked only the fifth time in history two men on the same team had accomplished that feat. It was the first time the two had played the same position.

Lawrence has a chance to join Tony Dorsett as the only major college player with four 1,000-yard seasons.

Don McCauley set the Tar Heels' all-time single-season rushing record in 1970. He ran for 1,720 yards that year, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA single-season record.



Mike Voight
1,033 yards in 1974

Carolina's Bowl History

North Carolina has played in 11 post-season bowl games, including seven in the last 10 years.

No other Atlantic Coast Conference team went to as many bowl games in the 1970's as Carolina. In fact, the only teams in America which played in more bowls than the Tar Heels in the last decade were Alabama, Nebraska, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Penn State, Southern California and Texas.

Carolina's post-season trips have been to the Sugar Bowl in 1947 and 1949, the Cotton Bowl in 1950, the Peach Bowl in 1970 and 1976, the Sun Bowl in 1972 and 1974, the Liberty Bowl in 1977 and the Gator Bowl in 1963, 1971 and 1979.

The Tar Heels' bowl history started in the late Forties when Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice was running wild from the single wing. Carolina went to bowl games three times during the Justice Era, but lost all three.

Perhaps the most famous of those games was the 1947 Sugar Bowl which matched Carolina against Georgia. The game produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history. Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and that the play should have been called back. However, the official ruled differently. Georgia went on to score and eventually won the game, 20-10.

Carolina returned to the Sugar Bowl two years later and lost to Oklahoma, 14-6. Justice had a great day for the Tar Heels, clicking off runs of 10, 13, 25, 11 and 14 yards. He punted four times for 65, 65, 57 and 53 yards.

Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but Carolina lost to Rice, 27-14.

The Tar Heels' next bowl appearance came in the 1963 Gator Bowl where Carolina walloped the Air Force, 35-0. Ken Willard was the big star of that game. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the runaway victory.

In the 1970 Peach Bowl the Tar Heels dropped a wild 48-26 decision to unbeaten Arizona State. All-America tailback Don McCauley had 143 yards rushing and three touchdowns for Carolina. But a second-half snowstorm and an injury to quarterback Paul Miller helped the Sun Devils race to victory.

The 1971 Gator Bowl produced a bowl first—brothers opposing each other as coaches in bowl competition. It matched Vince Dooley of Georgia against Bill of Carolina. The game was a great defensive struggle in which the Bulldogs came from behind to win, 7-3.

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic was the big star, completing 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards. He fired a 62-yard scoring strike to Ted Leverenz to help the Tar Heels to a 24-21 halftime lead.

Tech came back to go ahead, 28-24, but Vidnovic hit Leverenz with a 13-yard TD pass with just a minute to play to bring Carolina back. The Tar Heels then added two more points when Ronnie Robinson dropped Raider quarterback Joe Barnes for a safety.

Mike Voight and James (Boom Boom) Betterson had big days rushing in the 1974 Sun Bowl, but Mississippi State won another thriller, 26-24. The Tar Heels put on a desperation drive in the game's closing moments, but were stopped on a fourth-and-one at their own 48-yard line.

Playing without the injured Voight, Carolina lost to Kentucky, 21-0, in the 1976 Peach Bowl. The Tar Heels had trouble all day with a tough Wildcat defense.

Carolina dropped a heartbreaking 21-17 decision to Nebraska in the 1977 Liberty Bowl. Sparked by quarterback Matt Kupec, the Tar Heels held a 17-7 lead going into the fourth period. However, the Cornhuskers rallied behind reserve quarterback Randy Garcia to score their come-from-behind victory.

Last December Carolina toppled Michigan, 17-15, in the Gator Bowl. Quarterback Matt Kupec drove the Tar Heels 97 yards in the third period for a go-ahead touchdown (14-9) and Jeff Hayes later added a 32-yard field goal. Michigan scored with a 1:28 left to cut the lead to two, but a two-point pass failed.

Kupec and tailback Amos Lawrence were named co-MVPs in the game. Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes, while Lawrence ran for 118 yards.
